Industrial Court Would Have Power To Require Talks

Elrod Bill Survives Kill Motion, Receives First-Round Approval

By DICK HERMAN

Nebraska's Court of Industrial Relations would have statutory power to require bargaining between a public utility and its workers under a bill which struggled over its first-round test in the Legislature Tuesday, 25-13.

The favorable vote routinely followed almost an hour of interesting floor debate on Omaha Sen. Clifton Batchelder's motion to kill LB298.

Batchelder's move failed, 16-28.

While backers of the bill, sponsored by Grand Island Sen. Donald Elrod, contended utility workers are forbidden to strike and now can't even force their employers to sit down and talk about wages, hours and working conditions, Batchelder said: "If they don't like working for public utilities, they can go elsewhere."

'Same Option'

This is the same kind of option workers in his checkbook printing company have, Batchelder said. Isn't it possible, he asked, that public utility managers are "as benign and kindhearted employers as I am?"

Batchelder argued it is a fallacy to think most of the private workers in Nebraska are unionized or unhappy working in "open shops."

LB298 was opposed in committee by some public power districts and the cities of Omaha, Lincoln and Hastings.

Omaha Sen. George Syas observed that workers for government do not have the same employment rights as those in private industry. This is one of the drawbacks in Nebraska's dedication to a publicly owned power system, Syas asserted.

Batchelder's views about worker-employer relationships, Sen. Terry Carpenter said, were "accepted thought" a half-century ago. But today, he suggested, "you can't take the attitude, if you don't like it here, quit."

'World Has Changed'

Carpenter said Batchelder should be "a little more realistic. The world has changed."

Voting to kill LB298 were Sens. Elvin Adamson, Batchelder, Richard L. Ely, W. H. Hasebroock, C. W. Holmquist, Albert A. Kjar, Rudolph C. Kokes, Maurice Kremer, Stanley A. Matzke, Herb Nore, Eric Rasmussen, Arnold Ruhnke, Harold B. Stryker, Elmer Wallwey, Ramey C. Whitney and William Wylie.

LB298 does not include any public workers except those employed by a governmental unit in a "proprietary capacity." This is usually under-

$1 Per Hour
Minimum Wage Law Is Passed

State Act Aids 20,000

New economic ground — for Nebraska — was broken Tuesday. The State Legislature passed a $1 per hour minimum wage law.

As enacted on a 30-17 vote, the law affects only 20,000 people, according to Omaha Sen. Eugene T. Mahoney, its primary sponsor. However Mahoney hailed passage of LB35 as a "milestone" for Nebraska, one "long overdue," he said.

Nebraska is one of the last states to have a state minimum wage and hour act for workers not affected by national legislation.

Primarily, the new law — to become effective 90 days after adjournment of the Legislature — will confer wage benefits on persons who are not organized in labor unions. Mahoney said it "will take care of some hotel and restaurant people who are working for 60c and 80c an hour."

Exempted from the wage minimum are individuals employed in agriculture, domestic service, government, salesmen, students, apprentices, inexperienced workers and those compensated mainly by tips — such as some waitresses.

Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann came out in support of the concept of a minimum wage after LB35 was reported to the floor.

The roll call vote on LB35:

For (30) — Bloom, Burbach, Carpenter, Carstens, Danner, Elrod, Ely, Fleming, Harsh, Hughes, Klaver, Knight, Luedtke, Mahoney, Marvel, Moulton, Moylan, Orme, Proud, Ross Rasmussen, Reynolds, Robinson, Ruhnke, Simpson, Skarda, Swanson, Syas, Viehmeyer, Waldron and Warner.

Against (17)—Adamson, Batchelder, Brauer, Budd, Hasebroock, Holmquist, Kjar, Kokes, Kremer, Matzke, Nore, Pedersen, Eric Rasmussen, Stryker, Wallwey, Whitney and Wylie.

Not voting (2) — Gerdes and Payne.

Tiemann Signature Needed
Parking Penalty Bill Passes; Back to $1

Parking violators, and their number is legion, had reason to cheer Tuesday. The Legislature passed LB190 which has the effect in Lincoln of reducing the penalty for common overtime parking from $2 to $1.

Introduced by Omaha Sen. Richard Proud, the bill eliminates a requirement that a $1 fee for the benefit of the judges retirement fund be required in each parking violation case handled by a violations bureau.

Legislation passed two years ago extending collections under the judges retirement system was discovered later to include simple parking violations in Omaha and Lincoln. Omaha has been making the payments out of its parking fine. Lincoln increased the penalty from $1 to $2 to cover the remittance.

LB190 carries the emergency clause and becomes effective the moment Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann signs the bill.

The list of bills passed Tuesday:

LB35 (Mahoney, Stromer, Skarda, Bloom) — Establishing a minimum wage of $1 per hour for covered employes in the state. (30-17)

LB124 (Proud, Knight) — Authorizing banks to invest in computer center, either alone or jointly. (48-0)

LB189 (Proud, Luedtke, Klaver) — Authorizing local governing bodies to set, by ordinance, the court costs for cases handled by a municipal court violations bureau. (48-0)

East High
Schuerman Named Vice Principal

By LLOYD MacDOWELL

The Lincoln Board of Education Tuesday named Norbert Schuerman to the post of vice principal at Lincoln East Educational Complex.

Salary for the 12-months position was set at $12,500 subject to adjustment when the total school salary schedule is adopted.

Schuerman, formerly vice principal at Northeast High, is completing work on his doctorate.

Gary Lake and James Rakers were appointed assistant principals, both on 41-week contracts and both at a salary of $9,500, also subject to adjustment.

A former Lincoln teacher, Lake is serving as an administrative intern in the Omaha Westside Schools. Rakers is assistant principal at Dawes Junior High School.

Dr. Jean McGrew was re-elected to the principalship.

Board Member Dr. John Lux tossed a bombshell into the agenda for the Feb. 28 meeting with a nine-point proposal for improved relations between the School Board and the staff.

First of 'Town Hall' Meetings
From War to Wages, Denney Gives Views

By JOHN LEE
Outstate Nebraska Bureau

York—Subjects running a gamut from Vietnam to bow-and-arrow deer hunting came up during Rep. Robert V. Denney's first "town hall" meeting here Tuesday.

On the war, Denney said he is not satisfied with the current administration policy.

"The events of the last week prove that the Viet Cong proceeds to retool, resupply and prepare to fight harder when we give them five days of free time," the freshman Republican said.

In reply to Harvey Lange of Seward, the First District representative said amendments to the latest minimum wage law are being drafted to exempt certain persons from coverage.

His own measure to exempt certain people, including college students, will be introduced within 60 days, Denney said.

Also slated for action is a bill to raise the maximum income allowable for veterans' pension recipients to $2,000 from $1,400 annually, Denney pointed out in reply to a query from Sewardite Ed goehner.

Against Surtax

Goehner also brought up the humane treatment of animals, noting that bow-and-arrow hunters often wound deer, subjecting them to suffering before they finally die. Denney said he didn't know of any legislation to cover the problem.

To President Lyndon Johnson's proposed surtax, the former Fairbury attorney expressed violent opposition, claiming, "We can save the money that would be raised by a surtax by cutting nonessential domestic spending."

He suggested that money spent for such projects as the Lincoln Job Corps Center might be better spent by funneling it to the states to assist them in setting up training schools for low-income persons.

Likes Turnout

"This Congress is a group that will stop, look and listen before enacting legislation," Denney told the group of about 35, representing a dozen First District communities.

He said the turnout was "outstanding" for the first of several regional office sessions he hopes to conduct during his two-year term.

In other areas, Denney:

—predicted changes in the draft law would be forthcoming, with 52 bills up for consideration.

—discounted the threat expressed by an Eastern economist that 1967 would see a severe recession, though he granted a slight slow-down of the economy could be expected.

—supported a federal educational television system only if the states retained the right to approve programs for viewing.

—pledged to help find the best solutions to water conservancy problems.

—opposed any further jacking up of the federal debt ceiling.

LBJ: We'll Respond To Any Hanoi Signal

'Infiltration Only Response to Pause'

Washington (UPI) — President Johnson sought Tuesday to soften the impact that the end of the pause in U.S. bombing of North Vietnam had on worldwide hopes for peace in Southeast Asia.

Explaining his decision to resume the bombing, the President renewed his pledge to respond promptly to any signal from Hanoi that it seriously wanted to end the fighting.

It was the total absence of any such sign during a six-day lull in American air attacks — including 42 hours beyond the lunar new year cease-fire—that caused Johnson to order bombers back to the Communist targets in the North.

The President, in a statement late Monday a few hours after carrier-based warplanes hit the southern end of North Vietnam, said he had no choice but to order a resumption of attacks. The only response to the pause, he said, was intensified Communist infiltration of South Vietnam.

By truck and hundreds of small boats, the Pentagon said, the Communists transported 25,000 tons of materiel —enough to keep 10,000 men fighting more than eight months.

Low-Keyed

Johnson's statement was noticeably low-keyed, containing no harsh charges against Hanoi while emphasizing that Ho Chi Minh could initiate peace talks any time he is really ready to negotiate.

Johnson's words—and the bombs and shells of warplanes and warships—stressed that the United States is not so eager for peace talks that it will throw away a trump card, the bombing, in exchange for virtually nothing—a vague suggestion that Hanoi might be be willing to talk when attacks are halted.

Hanoi radio contributed to worldwide excitement over the possibility of peace talks, just before air raids were resumed, when it broadcast Monday Ho's message to Pope Paul asking his help in settling the war.

The Vatican newspaper Observatore Romano said the North Vietnamese president's response to a peace plea by the Pope "unfortunately contains no new elements" to enhance the prospects of peace.

Reaction from world capitals over resumption of bombing was fairly predictable. But even critics of U.S. policy criticized, directly or indirectly, Hanoi's lack of response to the lull.

After A Sample of Spring . . .
Blizzard on Way For Whole State

After experiencing spring-like temperatures in the 60s Monday and Tuesday, Lincolnites were expecting a return to winter Tuesday night and Wednesday.

An official blizzard warning, with snow, strong northerly winds 25-40 m.p.h., and low temperatures around zero, was issued for last Tuesday night and continuing into Wednesday.

The expected high temperature Wednesday will be around 20 degrees.

Stockmen's warnings were issued by the Weather Bureau for the entire state of Nebraska for late Tuesday night and Wednesday.

'Strong northerly winds 25-40 m.p.h. producing blowing and drifting snow, with temperatures ranging from zero to 10 above Tuesday night, were expected to cause blizzard conditions.

High temperatures Wednesday were expected to range from 10 to 20 throughout the state.

Poem by Girl, 12
Defense Dept. Is 'Upset'

Philadelphia (AP)—The Presbyterian Board of Christian Education said the Defense Dept. has cancelled 13,000 subscriptions to its Sunday School magazine because of a poem on napalm in the February issue by a 12-year-old girl.

The Defense Dept. described the poem as "an embarrassing item concerning Vietnam," the board said.

The item is a poem describing the dropping of napalm on a village in North Vietnam. It was written by Barbara Beidler of Vero Beach, Fla.

Cancellation of the 13,000 military subscriptions, the board said, was recommended by the religious education advisory group of the Armed Forces Chaplains Board.

Published here by the Presbyterian board, the magazine, "Venture," has a total circulation of 130,000, a board spokesman said. Thus it has lost 10% of its readership.

The poem reads in part:

"Then there was the flash—
Silver and Gold.
Silver birds flying,
Golden water raining.
The rice ponds blazed with new water.
The jungle burst into gold and sent up little birds of fire.
Little animals with fur aflame.
Then the children flamed.
Running — their clothes flying like fiery kites.
Screaming—their screams.
Dying as their faces seared.
The women's baskets burned on their heads.
The men's boats blazed on the rice waters . . .
Listen Americans,
Listen clear and long.
The children are screaming
In the jungles of Haiphong."

Record High Recorded Here

A high temperature of 73 degrees reported by the U.. Weather Bureau City at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, broke the record official temperature for the same date, which was 71 degrees in 1954.

The U.S. Weather Bureau at the airport station reported a high temperature of 77 degrees at 3 p.m.

Kansas to Use Daylight Time

Topeka, Kan. (AP) — The Kansas House Tuesday killed a bill to keep Kansas on Standard Time.

The bill was stricken from the House calendar after members voted 71-74 against recommending the passage.

Under the Federal Uniform Time Act of 1966 the state must go on daylight time along with other portions of the nation this summer unless the Legislature exempts the entire state from this provision.

Rodriguez Dies

La Jolla, Calif. (UPI) — Gen. Abelardo Luis Rodriguez, president of Mexico from 1932-34 and one of its wealthiest men, died Monday in a clinic at the age of 77.

If He Doesn't See Daylight . . .
Gerdes to Try to Bring Time Bill to the Floor

If the Legislature's Miscellaneous Subjects Committee still is deadlocked by the end of the week on the burning question of daylight saving time, an effort will be made next week to bring it to the floor of the full assembly.

Alliance Sen. George Gerdes said he would move to force his LB92 out of the committee, notwithstanding the vacillation of the committee's members.

For three solid weeks, the committee hasn't been able to advance the fast time proposal, or kill it, either.

On several occasions, there have been four votes in both directions. A minimum of five votes is necessary for definitive committee action.

Sen. William Wylie of Elgin, Miscellaneous Subjects Committee chairman, reported yet another committee vote on LB92 probably will be taken Thursday afternoon.

Passage of LB92 by the Legislature would enrol Nebraska with other states observing the national Uniform Time Act, passed by Congress last year.

Gerdes' proposal calls for repeal of Nebraska's 10-year ban against daylight saving time.

To bring a bill out of a standing committee requires 25 affirmative votes of the entire Legislature, a simple majority. That's also the number needed to pass any bill on final reading.

4 Appointees
Committee Balks On Approval

The Legislature's Committee on Committees, in something of an unusual step, Tuesday afternoon decided to defer judgment upon recommending legislative confirmation of four major gubernatorial appointments.

Delayed for an unspecified time were committee decisions about Robert Rogers, to be director of the Administrative Services Dept.; Clinton Belknap, welfare director-designate; Howard Vest, proposed Aeronautics Commission director, and Harold Oldfather, a Power Review Board appointee.

While judgments of those four were held in abeyance, the committee recommended fellow senators confirm the following appointments of Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann:

Agriculture Director Elmer Schlaphoff, Motor Vehicles Director Lawrence (Larry) Johns, State Purchasing Agent Harley Davidson, State Game Commissioner James C. Columbo of Omaha and Technical Assistance Agency Director Samuel J. Cornelius.

Two Works of Da Vinci Are Discovered in Spain

Boston (AP)—A scholar says two lost manuscripts of Leonardo da Vinci discovered in Spain may result in several inventions being attributed to the Italian master for the first time.

Dr. Ladislao Reti of the Elmer Belt Library of Vinciana of the University of California at Los Angeles told a news conference Monday:

"Until now we had only 5,000 pages of Da Vinci in the world. These manuscripts contain 700 pages, so this adds about one-sixth to what we have of the master."

The discovery was announced at the news conference by Dr. Jules Piccus, professor of Romance languages at the University of Massachusetts, who said he found the works in the National Library of Madrid, Spain.

200 Drawings

Reti, an expert on Da Vinci's scientific works, said the manuscripts were produced between 1491 and 1505, and contain notes and 200 drawings.

"We feel that these manuscripts will result in several new inventions being attributed to Da Vinci," Reti said. "For example, the chain drive like that on bicycles. We first knew of this in the 18th century, but careful drawings of the chain drive appear on these pages.

"And there are drawings of a corn mill with an automatic sifter machine which we first know of from the 16th century. There are many other examples of early automation."

Manuscripts Lost

Piccus said he was making a "systematic search for Spanish medieval poetry" when he came upon the works.

Piccus said the manuscripts were lost during recataloguing at the library sometime before 1800 "when nobody cared about Da Vinci." The first intensive search for them was made in 1898, he said, but it was unsuccessful and the library assumed they had been lost or stolen.

Sukarno
Showdown Is Near

Jakarta (AP)—One of army strongman Gen. Suharto's top deputies indicated Tuesday that a showdown in the struggle to force President Sukarno to retire may be imminent.

Maj. Gen. Alamsjah said an answer to new military proposals to end the power struggle may be forthcoming Tuesday night.

"There will be no more missions, no more talks," he declared. "The decision has been taken. We are just waiting for the answer."

Military leaders and cabinet ministers have repeatedly urged Sukarno in recent weeks to step down before he is dragged down. The president has shown no sign of complying and gave every indication at a palace reception that he would remain in Jakarta to continue his fight to hold the presidency.

Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution, the chairman of Congress, in a broadcast statement accused the president of being a Communist sympathizer and knowing in advance of the attempted Red coup on Oct. 1, 1965.

Bloody Resistance To Purge Reported

Red China Says Fighting Broke On Tense Sino-Soviet Frontier

Compiled From News Wires

Hong Kong—Soviet broadcasts reported bloody resistance to Mao Tse-tung's purge in six provinces of Red China There also were unconfirmed reports on clashes between Russian and Chinese forces along the tense Sino-Soviet frontier.

Radio Moscow, in a Japanese language broadcast heard here, said pro-Mao factions were meeting "stiff" resistance in the provinces of Honan and Hopeh in central China, Kwantung in the south, Heilungkaing in Manchuria, Tibet and Inner Mongolia.

Previous news reports from Red China had told of heavy fighting in these areas, considered strongholds of anti-Mao resistance.

Peking wall posters also reported recent clashes along the uneasy 6,000-mile frontier between Russia and China where both nations were believed reinforcing their border forces.

Questionable

The Peking correspondent for the Japanese newspaper Mainichi Shimbun said posters reported Soviet forces "engaged in provocative actions against the Chinese" along the Ussuri River near Harbin in northeastern China.

But Mainichi said the report was listed among miscellaneous news and its authenticity was questionable.

The posters said a Chinese army company "counter-attacked and repulsed the Russians" when the incident occurred. The wall posters said some Russians were captured but later released by the Chinese "out of generosity."

A sweeping purge of Red China's leading military men is under way in Mao's drive to weed out supporters of President Liu Shao-chi. They also reported a big step up the power ladder by Mao's wife.

A correspondent of the Japanese newspaper Sankei Shimbun said 25 top military men have come under fire as followers of the bourgeois, reactionary line.

Wall posters put up by the postal and telegraph workers said that Mao's aggressive third wife, Chiang Ching, has been named chairman of a new committee formed to press Mao's purge in central party and government organizations.

Her new importance was underlined by the fact that Premier Chou En-lai, who might have been expected to head such a committee, has been named to serve on it as Mrs. Mao's adviser.

Saigon (UPI) — A U.S. artillery crew accidentally fired a shell into a company of American air cavalrymen killing seven and wounding four of the GIs, spokesmen said Tuesday.

American planes and warships teamed to resume attacks on North Vietnamese supply lines through which tons of war goods passed during the recent Asian new year truce.

U.S. spokesmen said the artillery mishap occurred Monday while a company of the 1st Air Cavalry Division's 2nd Brigade was battling an enemy force 53 miles north of Qui Nhon City near South Vietnam's central coast.

The cavalrymen called for artillery support, spokesmen said, and five rounds were fired. One fell short of target and landed in the midst of the GIs. A spokesman said an investigation "is under way to determine the cause of the accident."

The air strikes against the North early Tuesday were limited to 12 missions of three to five planes each because of heavy monsoon clouds covering most targets. All raids were in the panhandle region, spokesmen said.

The warships swung into action later in the day, battering barges and exchanging fire with Communist shore batteries lining the Gulf of Tonkin near the panhandle city of Vinh.

The U.S. fighter-bombers had been grounded 138 hours for the holiday cease-fire and later for renewed diplomatic attempts to get Hanoi to negotiate toward peace. With a go-ahead from President Johnson, the raids resumed at 1:07 a.m. (11:07 p.m. CST Monday).

The first of the planes to strike were two Air Force F4C phantom jets. The 1,500 mile-an-hour planes dropped bombs on the Vinh Tuy highway bridge seven miles south of coastal Dong Hoi. All other targets were supply routes, spokesmen said.

Six Children Die In Michigan Fire

South Haven, Mich. (AP) — Six children died Monday in a fire that destroyed their family's tenant house farm in Allegan County. State police said three others — two adults and one child — escaped and were being treated for shock and burns at a South Haven hospital.

Troopers said the fire broke out in a frame building where the children were sleeping.

National Student Officials Tell of CIA Subsidies

Washington (AP) — Officials of the National Student Assn. say the organization has been subsidized since the early 1950s by the Central Intelligency Agency, the Washington Post reported Tuesday.

The Post quoted W. Eugene Groves, president of the NSA, as saying that no officers or employes of NSA "to our knowledge" had carried out intelligence functions for the CIA.

In the same edition, the Post carried a full-page advertisement by Ramparts magazine saying that in its March issue, Ramparts "will document how the CIA has infiltrated and subverted the world of American student leaders . . . (and) has interfered, in a most shocking manner, in the internal workings of the nation's oldest and largest student organization."

The Post quoted "independent sources" as saying the CIA subsidy to the student organization was started at a time when Communist governments were sponsoring youth congresses and the CIA felt a need to have the American student position represented at such gatherings.

The CIA had no immediate comment, said the Post.

The Post said it also learned that CIA subsidies to the student group were handled mainly through private foundations and in the past exceeded $100,000 a year. In recent years, the newspaper added, the subsidy has been reduced to less than $50,000 annually.

The Post quoted Groves as saying he met last month with Douglass Cater, a special assistant to President Johnson, to explain the link between the NSA and the intelligence agency. Groves said Cater had no previous knowledge of CIA ties to the student group.

Groves told the Post that in 1965 NSA was provided with a rent-free headquarters in Washington and was given $20,000 to furnish the handsome Town House.

The newspaper continued: "He (Groves) said the mortgage on the building is held by the First National Bank of Washington on behalf of NSA and the Independence Foundation of Boston, which makes all of the payments.

Break Ties

"The forthcoming Ramparts article will name the Independence Foundation as one of five such groups that are handling CIA funds for the NSA account."

The newspaper also quotes Groves as saying the student group has been striving for the past two years to break its "covert relationship" with the CIA and that no agency funds were being accepted for its current $825,000 annual budget.

The Post quotes Groves as saying neither he nor other current NSA officers knew of the financial tie with the CIA.

The Ramparts advertisement said its article will show that the CIA "used students to spy."

The National Student Assn. has more than 300 member colleges in the United States and is affiliated with some 60 student groups overseas. Its 50-man staff is headed by Groves, 23, a former Rhodes scholar, who is paid a salary of $4,000 a year.

Clean Air for Lincoln

Lincoln city government had one of its finest hours Monday when the City Council gave unanimous approval to a city air pollution ordinance.

* * *

The term city government, in this reference, is used in its broadest sense and includes business and civic leadership and the public, as well as officials in City Hall.

* * *

The high degree of cooperation within the community in arriving at a generally agreeable solution to a complex and controversial problem is, perhaps, the most notable point in the adoption of the ordinance — more notable even than Lincoln's becoming the first city in the state to enact a comprehensive measure against air pollution.

The ordinance as passed represents some two and a half years of effort, discussion and compromise by representatives of the city, the public and industry. Brought together in the air pollution control advisory committee, this group is the unsung hero of the success of the ordinance and rates a huge vote of gratitude by the entire community.

Without attempting to assess the technical requirements of the ordinance, it is impressive that it apparently had the full blessing of such often diverse interests as public health officials and industrial leaders. It was supported by the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce and hailed by the City-County Health Department.

The intense effort at consensus which went into this ordinance might well serve as a guide to the city in dealing with other local issues of a complicated nature.

* * *

It is noteworthy, too, that here is a case of Lincoln taking positive action on an obvious problem which has not yet reached the crisis stage. Lincoln's air pollution problem is not so grave as that of more heavily industrialized centers, but the city now has the chance to prevent it ever from becoming as serious as that.

As indicated in President Johnson's message on the subject a couple of weeks ago, air pollution control is rapidly becoming a major consideration all over the country. Despite passage of three control measures by Congress since 1963, the President noted that "we are not even controlling today's level of pollution."

More stringent federal regulations on air pollution are virtually certain. What effect this will have on Lincoln's own control measure is difficult to predict, but it seems reasonable to expect that the city will be better off having its own control than to have ignored the problem.

* * *

It can be hoped now that the community cooperation so evident in the enactment of Lincoln's air pollution control ordinance will continue in its enforcement.

Let the People Decide

A substantial number of Nebraska legislators appear to be aware of the need for extentative revisions in the state constitution.

* * *

This is evident in the 30-17 first round vote in favor of inviting the state electorate to decide whether a constitutional convention should be held. It also is indicated in the 31 constitutional amendments already introduced as bills in this session of the Legislature.

* * *

All this, however, does not assure that Nebraska voters will have the chance to express themselves in 1968 on the wisdom of a constitutional convention. The 30 votes in support of the idea at its initial legislative test is the bare minimum needed for final passage.

Moreover, an attitude has appeared in the Legislature to the effect that while the state constitution does, in fact, need a major overhaul, the job should be done by the legislators themselves in special session and then submitted to voters as individual amendments.

* * *

Such a course by the Legislature would be the height of legislative arrogance. It would amount to an opinion by the senators that no citizens of Nebraska except themselves possess the wisdom and experience to be entrusted with such a responsibility.

* * *

An attitude of this nature not only would be highly presumptuous, but completely erroneous. There are any number of Nebraskans who are fully as qualified and capable of giving intelligent analysis to constitutional needs as the members of the Legislature —and this is no discredit to the senators.

The constitution leaves to the Legislature the number of official delegates to a constitutional convention (not more than 100) and the manner in which they shall be elected.

Thus the Legislature could prescribe that members of the convention be elected from the 49 legislative districts in the state — one or two from each — and they would have every right to run for this position along with other citizens.

The essential fact is that the constitution provides the people the opportunity, first of all, to vote on whether a thorough constitutional overhaul will be undertaken and, secondly, on who shall do this job.

* * *

It will be in mighty poor grace for the Legislature to attempt to pre-empt this right and become the self-assigned constitutional convention themselves.

Describing Iowa

It's "them" decisions which make life hard for legislators.

* * *

Iowa's lawmakers are having difficulty agreeing whether the adjective "beautiful" or "bountiful" would be more appropriate for describing the state in a legend for automobile license plates.

* * *

An editorial writer of the Des Moines Register found the decision just as hard.

He says "'beautiful land' is the perfect description in the winter when the fields, hills and valleys are covered with snow. It says everything that needs to be said in the spring when trees are beginning to leaf out or later when the corn rows and pastures are freshly green."

Then he leans toward "bountiful."

He avers that "No visitor to the state could accuse us of false advertising after observing heavy ears of corn hanging on lush green stalks along miles and miles of highways. Or the great round bins stacked full. Or the herds of hogs and cattle in the pastures and feedlots."

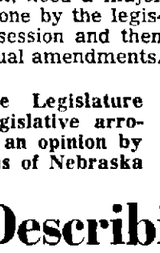
* * *

It is hard. Perhaps the legislators should decide whether they are trying to attract tourists or settlers.

JAMES J. KILPATRICK'S Opinion

Consular Treaty a Moral Issue

Washington—The pending consular convention with the Soviet Union increasingly is being seen more as a symbol than as a contract. Viewed solely on its merits, the convention would not be cause for large concern. Viewed in the inescapable context of the war in Southeast Asia, the whole of the convention becomes more than the sum of its parts.



Kilpatrick

Most of the criticism directed at the convention itself has concentrated upon three points. The first of these has to do with opportunities [illegible] espionage. The second of smaller public interest has to do with the status of the Baltic [illegible]. The third arises from the convention [illegible] which says that all consular officers and employes who are nationals of the sending state "shall enjoy [illegible] the criminal jurisdiction of [illegible]."

* * *

Considering the small number of additional Soviet personnel that would be attached to any new consulates, and further considering the ease with which Soviet espionage agents now enter the U.S. from Canada and Mexico, one is bound to conclude that the first criticism of the convention is groundless.

* * *

The second criticism arises from the fact that the United States never has recognized the seizure of Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia by the Soviets. These are "captive nations" in our view. But the pending convention speaks repeatedly in terms of "the sending state" and "the receiving state," and there is no question that the USSR understands that the terms embrace the Baltic states within the Soviet Union.

* * *

The sweeping provisions of Article 19, granting immunity from prosecution for all criminal offenses, were not in the first draft of the convention prepared by our State Dept.

* * *

The point is probably not worth cavilling over. Over a span of 25 years, between 1940 and 1965, the State Dept. was able to find records of only 15 criminal prosecutions against consular officers or employes.

On the affirmative side, ratification of the convention presumably would afford significant benefits to the roughly 12,000 American tourists who visit the Soviet Union every year. And because this would be the first bilateral treaty ever ratified between the U.S. and the USSR alone, it presumably would contribute to Johnson's bridge-building program.

* * *

Thus the merits of the case. The towering questions rise above the merits. Do we want to build bridges at all just now? At a time when Soviet weapons are killing American troops, does the Congress wish to embark upon ANY new gestures of friendliness toward the Communist East?

* * *

This is more a moral than a political issue. It strikes at the inherent hypocrisy involved in simultaneously sipping tea in Leningrad and spilling blood in Vietnam.

* * *

Some of us on the anti-Communist Right may be "primitive" in the Fulbright-Kennan-Schlesinger view, but we would urge that the tea-drinking be postponed to another and better day.

Tuition And Taxation

Aurora — Many individuals, like myself, attended our state colleges. Some didn't pay any tuition, others paid very little. I would rather pay a little more tax than see our young people kept out of college because of tuition.

The fact that Nebraska has a backlog of things that should have been done over the past 10 years is no reason for penalizing our young people.

I am not in favor of the state subsidizing district junior colleges, unless the same is done for elementary and secondary schools.

If Nebraskans can pay a 2½% sales tax, they can pay a 3% sales tax, which would probably be the tax on dollar sales anyway. I believe a 3% sales tax and Sen. Carpenter's idea of an income tax would solve our financial problems.

G. G. HANSEN

Why Change?

Palmyra—The prosperity of a state depends on the prosperity of its farmers.

Daylight saving time would cost farmers thousands of dollars. While we work to a degree by the sun, a lot of things can't be done till later in the day. If a combine breaks down at 4:45 standard time, one could pick up repairs and be back in the field by 5:00 p.m. On early time things would be closed.

A heavy rain or hailstorm might wipe out everything. Farmers in Iowa and other states would like to do away with daylight saving time. Being an agricultural state why should we change?

LAWRENCE HEATHER

Not Indispensible

Ashland — I have nothing against Mel Steen and as far as I know he has done a good job. However, his recent statements are amusing.

He says, "I wanted to quit 5 years ago, but they wouldn't let me." No one could have made him stay if he didn't want to.

Now he is giving 1½ years notice that he is leaving. Governors and presidents change with 60 days notice. Important state jobs are changed on short notice.

Surely Steen is not so indispensible he must give 1½ years notice. If you don't like your job, give 60 days and quit. We will survive.

FLOYD L. HOFFMAN

Teens Appreciate

Lincoln — Now that LB132 has passed one of it's major hurdles in the Legislature, I, as an interested teenager, would like to thank the Lincoln newspapers for allowing several fine letters to be printed favoring teenage suffrage.

I also thank the 36 state senators for voting for the bill.

STEVE BEAN

Lower Overhead

Lincoln — What are these fast buck stores gaining by staying open seven days a week? If they would take the money they spend on excessive overhead and pass it on to the consumer, they could lower prices, particularly on groceries.

I am all for supporting the decent stores that observe the Sabbath and holidays. There is no need to stay open on Sunday in Lincoln. These stores are ruining a once nice town.

FOR LOWER PRICES

Let's Share

Steinaur — I suggest the Washington clergy and lay pickets and fasters take this action to remove the cause of war:

Not plan anything at the local level until they can spend at least an equal amount for foreign missions, instead of keeping 90% of their budgets at home.

JOHN BENDER

Time For Business

Ohiowa — With the state income tax and state property tax voted out by the people, I say give our governor a chance.

He is a business man. If we ever needed a business man in the state capitol we do now.

A Condemned Man Finds Peace

By James S. Cantrell
Minister, 3rd Presbyterian, Birmingham, Ala.

When I was first asked to go and see Bill Bowen in his penitentiary cell, I resisted.

I live in Birmingham, Ala., almost 100 miles from Kilby Prison. Surely, I said to myself, there are good chaplains at Kilby. Surely there are plenty of fine ministers in nearby Montgomery.

Perhaps, also, something in me was reluctant — although I hated to admit this, even to myself — to become invoved with a man convicted of murder. But someone had given my name to Bill Bowen's mother. She asked me to go, and I went.

Cantrell

* * *

The man I met on death row was a stocky, blue-eyed individual with thinning blond hair — not unusual or different in any way.

* * *

But there was a remarkable serenity about Bill Bowen, and it didn't take me long to find out why.

Someone had preceded me there on death row, a Person who Himself had died between two condemned felons. And He had wrought the miracle St. Paul describes: "Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, as things are become new."

* * *

Let me quote from some of the letters I received from this man during he long, harrowing months that followed. They are filled, not with bitterness or fear or despair, but with a kind of joyousness which, under the circumstances, is almost incredible.

* * *

"When I came here, I felt that no one would ever love me again, not even God. I didn't think He would forgive me. I was as low as a man could go.

"But many friends began to write, and some good Christians came to see me. I began to pray and read the Bible, and after many weeks I found my Lord.

"He came to me here on death row, He forgave me, He gave me peace of mind and heart, hope and faith in Him and others. This is wonderful. I can never thank Him enough.

"I have no fear of death any more because I have come to know Jesus. He took away my fear."

One day, I received an urgent message from Bill. He wanted to see me. He had heard that he could arrange to donate the corneas of his eyes to blind persons whose sight might thereby be restored. Could I make the arrangements with the doctors to have this done? I could and did.

* * *

The final night came. When I arrived at the prison, the first thing Bill said to me was: "Did you bring the doctors for my eyes?" I told him the doctors were ready.

* * *

Before the hood was slipped over his head, he made his last statement to those present:

* * *

"I am now ready to pay for the crime I committed. I bear no malice toward anyone. God has forgiven me; Christ has saved me. This chair will not send me to my death, but to my home."

* * *

The warden gave a signal. I kept my head bowed. When I raised it, Bill Bowen's brief and troubled hour on this earth was over.

* * *

The next day, I met a friend on the streets of Birmingham. "Well," he said, "I hear you were with Bill Bowen at the end. Is that right?"

* * *

The answer seemed to be waiting, deep inside me. "No," I said, "I was with him at the beginning."

Next—Wilbur Cross III tells how his grandfather, the famed former Yale University dean and governor of Connecticut, taught him the joy of optimism.

MORE or LESS PERSONAL

What They're Talking About

It isn't always the biggest item in a state budget which causes lifted eyebrows.

In Denver lawmakers expressed surprise that the state had been paying for a secretary for the governor's wife. Six members who served on the Colorado Legislature's Joint Budget Committee in 1965-66 admitted that the information was available if they had looked for it.

However, Rep. Tom Farley, Pueblo Democrat, charged that the secretary's salary in the past two budget years had been "disguised"—lumped in with other secreterial salaries assigned to the governor's statehouse office.

Farley then questioned such a state-paid job while majority Republicans refused to pay for a full-time secretary for Mark Hogan, the Democratic lieutenant governor.

In the current budget the first lady's secretary does appear as an executive mansion expense and legislators disclaim any knowledge of such an expense item in previous budgets. One Budget Committee member said, "We just took the recommendations from the governor's office on his staff needs without much questioning."

* * *

They may also have been too busy to read the newspapers. A Denver Post interview wth Mrs. Love (Nov. 24, 1964) carried the report that Miss Brown (the secretary) had been working part time for Mrs. Love, was working then full time, and beginning in 1965 would be fully paid by the state.

Gov. Love said, "The job of being first lady is a fulltime job" and added that secretarial help was needed. The governor then noted that Miss Brown's work and the fact that the state was paying for it had been published in newspapers and in budget documents.

The way the Nebraska Legislature's Budget Committee goes over the budget with a fine-toothed comb one would be inclined to think it couldn't happen here. The committee is not in the habit of taking recommendations of any department of government "without much questioning."

* * *

You can bet there is a lot of talk, "Would you believe it . . .?" over in Sioux City, Ia. A state tax commission investigation has uncovered $79 million in taxable money and credits which the owners had failed to report to the city assessors over periods of one to five years.

Two hundred assessments were levied for a total of $398,000 in delinquent taxes and interest. The state, the local school district, and city and county governments share this revenue.

The assessments were made against well-known local lawyers, doctors, bankers, contractors, brokers, business executives, a utility executive, a florist, a piano tuner, a social worker and others.

This is reminiscent of the year when Sen. Terry Carpenter headed an interim tax study committee in Nebraska and went out to prove that Nebraskans were not reporting personal and intangible taxes. Then Nebraskans were talking and worrying.

100 YEARS AGO TODAY

Anxious for Statehood

The act admitting Nebraska, that passed Congress on Feb. 9, called for the Territorial Governor of Nebraska to proclaim a special session of the State Legislature. Some Nebraskans were so anxious for statehood that they suggested that the Territorial Legislature, then in session in Omaha, could immediately ratify the conditions proposed by Congress, instead of having to wait to assemble the legal State Legislature.

"On the 9th, Cong. Ashley called up the Nebraska bill in the House, and it was passed over the veto by the decisive vote of 120 to 45. It now only remains for the legislature to do its duty, and we will be a state. The amendment of Mr. Boutwell provides that the fundamental conditions proposed by Congress shall be ratified by the State Legislature. We believe the present members of the Territorial Legislature constitute the State Legislature, with one or two exceptions; and it is to be hoped that they will convene at once and complete their part of the action. The bill provides that they shall be called together by the Territorial Governor within thirty days; but we see no necessity for awaiting a call, as they are all at the Capital, and can act immediately." — The Nebraska Advertiser, Brownsville, Nebr., Feb. 14, 1867.

By Harry Shorten

Wilson May Try Soft Sell For Common Market Entry

Bonn, Germany (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson will arrive Tuesday night for one of the toughest stages on his trek through Western Europe to present his case for Britain's joining the Common Market.

Erhard

Ex - Chancellor Ludwig Erhard used to be strong for having Britain in the organization, but he stood no chance against French President Charles de Gaulle's opposition.

Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger is making an effort to be nicer to De Gaulle than Erhard was. Doubts are often voiced in Bonn that Wilson really wants Britain to get into the Common Market.

Under agreements, West Germany buys British goods to offset the damage caused Britain's balance of international payments through the expense of keeping troops in Germany.

When the current agreements expire March 31, Britain wants these purchases raised to almost $265 million from this year's $150 million. So far the West Germans are offering only about $88 million plus an additional sum to be set as low as possible.

The British say Wilson does not intend to make a hard sell in Bonn, or to try and isolate De Gaulle by getting the other five members of the Common Market to gang up on him. All he is doing, they insist, is to explain Britain's difficulties and to try to make up his mind whether to apply for membership—when he is sure that there will be no repeat of De Gaulle's 1963 blackball.

Wilson is expected to point out that West Germany's surplus in world trade comes largely from its sales to Britain and other countries of the European Free Trade Association (EFTA). Of these, Denmark and Norway—plus Ireland—would probably follow Britain into the Common Market.

Sweden, Austria and Finland would seek some way of associating themselves with it. The result could be a considerable advantage to West German exporters of industrial goods.

Wilson can note that under Common Market rules Britain would contribute about $560 million a year to the joint agricultural fund. Now West Germany is the main contributor, with France getting the main benefit. Until 1970, Britain and West Germany would be "partners in misery," as one British ambassador puts it. After that, West German peasants would draw some benefits in the form of help to modernize their farms.

The Common Market's system of farm subsidies could cost the British housewife 10 to 14 per cent more for her groceries.

British Still Sneezing As 'Cold War' Rages

London (UPI) — As Britain's victorious troops marched home from one war, its scientists mobilized to launch a confident campaign against another enemy of mankind—the common cold.

Today, 20 years later, the communiques from the common cold research unit at Salisbury, England, are still optimistic. The final victory doesn't seem much closer, however, than it did when the first human guinea pigs volunteered for service.

In 1947, the scientific team in charge of strategy thought it had only to find and isolate one virus and then produce the antidote that would promise humanity a future from clogged noses and running eyes.

It was not a goal to be sneezed at.

Much money and an army of human guinea pigs later, the cold researchers now realize there are many viruses capable of provoking the common cold and the melancholy truth is that the number isolated may continue to increase.

The commom cold research unit is operated by the medical research council and the ministry of health. Every two weeks a batch of volunteers —usually about 20 men and 3—are dispatched to Salisbury to submit to various experiments in catching and treating colds.

It amounts to a couple of weeks in the country, fares paid, meals free and five shillings (70 cents) a day spending money.

Recently a spokesman for the unit has been hinting that an important breakthrough is in the offing which will confound scoffers—such as a member of Parliament who sees Britain marching into the 21st Century, still sneezing.

The researchers point to solid, if unspectacular, progress over the years. They have confirmed, they say, that Vitamin C cannot prevent or cure a cold, that sneezes are more dangerous than coughs because they spread more virus, that droughts or wet socks alone do not trigger off colds—nor does using the handkerchief of someone who had a cold.

A spokesman for the medical research council says research will continue until a cure is found or found to be impossible.

The cold viruses have been around a long time. As a poet once said:

Adam
Had 'em.

Hermione Signs

Hollywood (UPI)—Character actress Hermione Gingold has signed to co-star in "P. T. Barnum's Rocket to the Moon" filming in Ireland.

Georgia Health Team Presents Disease Seminar

Dixon City, Tiller County, U.S.A., is a fictional city, but for the next five days it will be very real for some 40 persons attending a seminar on the environmental control of communicable diseases at the Cornhusker Hotel.

Sponsored by local and state health departments, the seminar has drawn delegates from a five-state area, including South Dakota, Iowa, Texas, Kansas and Nebraska.

The program is being presented by four members of the Atlanta, Ga., Communicable Disease Center; Gilbert Kelso, James Peavey, Robert Sanders and John Frierson.

Purpose of the four-day meeting is to acquaint public health personnel with communicable disease control through environment. To accomplish this, the four-man teaching team has invented a town, complete with a sheaf of vital data, to help seminar participants solve problems relevant to the hypothetical community, and eventually their own communities.

The Georgia team has presented similar programs throughout the United States at the invitation of local health authorities.

Wheat Is Suffering From Lack of Moisture

Continued lack of soil moisture is becoming more evident and creating much blowing dust, the weekly crop report indicated.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture and the U.S. Weather Bureau reported late sown wheat is suffering the most from wind erosion but is limited where strip cropping practices provide additional protection.

Mild temperatures permitted increased pasturing of stalk fields which helped to slow the depletion of hay and roughage feed supplies.

Range and pasture feed conditions continue to decline and are somewhat below a year ago, the report said.

The lack of moisture is causing farmers to review anticipated planting practices such as seeding rate and fertilizer application, the report continued.

A new gas dryer does all the ironing your new permanent-press clothes will ever need.

The modern fabric cycles on a new gas dryer make sure your permanent-press clothes live up to their "no-ironing" promise. They automatically give you the amount of heat that will relax the fibers so the tumbling action can fluff out the wrinkles. Then, they give you a cool-down period so that clothes won't wrinkle when the dryer stops. (That's the big secret to permanent-press performance: the clothes should be kept in motion while they're cooled.) You won't even have to do any touch-up pressing on seams or collars and pleats. When permanent-press clothes are made, gas helps "lock in" their shape. And it can iron them back into shape every washday. Visit your gas company or gas appliance dealer; pick out a new gas dryer with modern fabric cycles. Gas makes the big difference.

Janet Runn as Alice in "Wonderland" cavorts with Tweedledee.

Ice Capades Stars Dazzle Young and Young at Heart

By HOLLY SPENCE

Look at the world of Ice Capades through the eyes of a five-year-old or an 80-year-old and the view is the same . . . enchanting!

Jelly-bean colored costumes, razzle-dazzle lighting, gay music, slithering skates and chilling breezes . . . no better atmosphere for the opening night of the Ice Capades at Pershing Auditorium.

The Teacup Train from Lewis Carroll's "Alice in Wonderland" fantasy should have been larger to tote more small fry around the arena, but aside from that, you couldn't have asked for anything more.

From the opening overture of mushrooming candelabra to the procession of the finale . . . the young were performing for the young and the young-at-heart.

The average age of the skaters is in the early 20s," said Janet Runn, portraying Alice in the Wonderland fantasy.

Squeals of delight rose from the youngsters as Alice and her Wonderland characters presented an icy version of the classic tale.

Miss Runn said she is partial to the kiddy numbers and the kids were certainly partial to golden-haired Alice.

If they could have, the small fry would have been right out there with Alice to personally welcome the Flustered Rabbit, roly-poly Tweedledee and Tweedledum, Humpty Dumpty and the Chesshire Cat who incidentally dances a mean version of the swinging Jabberwock.

But the fantasy wasn't over for the Mad Hatter [illegible] come from the team of Guy Revell and Gertrude Desjardins and Per Larsen.

The second half of the show was a gala salute to the world of entertainment.

Broadway, television and the movies all sped past in icy procession with segments from "Hello Dolly," "West Side Story," "Annie Get Your Gun" and "Pal Joey," an hilarious parody on the TV monster craze by John Labrecque and George Bussey and a nostalgic return to the Hollywood era of Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers.

How do the young skaters feel about the Ice Capades? Miss Runn says she lives, breathes, sleeps and eats skating.

"We travel 10 months of the year," she said. "The other two months I spend at home in Los Angeles with my parents.

"I've been skating since I was 11. I just turned 21 and I have the Ice Capades included in many more of my future plans," she added.

One consolation . . . her boyfriend is also in the show.

Solons Accept Song Bills 15, 16

The Legislature has received its 15th and 16th "state song" [illegible] of the current session.

Accepted for introduction was LB 840 designating "Nebraska for Me" by Alfred Wanesby of Omaha as the state song and LB841, giving the state song honor to "I Love Nebraska" by Evangeline Stortall McAllister of Bayard.

The measures were submitted by the Miscellaneous Subjects Committee which will later hold public hearings on all song bills.

Sales Tax Exemptions Opposed

Committeemen Confer Again

A legislative Revenue Committee, its back up against giving state sales tax exemptions, was to return to work Tuesday afternoon on additional proposed amendments to Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann's combination sales-income tax measure, LB377.

Monday the committee solidly rejected amendments to exempt farm machinery, building materials, film rentals and telephone service equipment.

Those decisions followed an unusual conference involving Tiemann, committee members, Atty. Gen. Clarence A. H. Meyer and representatives of the tax commissioner and legislative bill drafting offices

21 Amendments

Twenty-one amendments were considered by the Revenue Committee Monday. Chairman J. W. Burbach estimated another 80 to 100 further amendments are on the docket, although many are minor technical corrective changes.

Tiemann told the committee he is willing to make "reasonable compromises" on LB377 if they can help provide a solid-front behind the bill and help expedite its passage.

He renewed his pledge to support Sen. Terry Carpenter's approach to the individual income tax over his own recommended approach if the committee in its judgment determines that the Carpenter plan would be administratively preferable and can save money.

But the committee should be prepared to back its position with dollars and cents figures, he said.

Carpenter has proposed an income tax based on a percentage of federal income taxes paid. Tiemann proposes a progressive rate tax applied to taxable income as ascertained for federal income tax purposes.

The setting of rates should rest in the legislative branch and not the executive branch, he insisted.

No Splitting of Bills

Any off-year rate setting could be handled by delegating the responsibility to the executive board of the Legislative Council or some other legislative group, or even by calling the Legislature into short special session, the governor indicated.

At an impromptu news conference, Tiemann said he would object to any move to split LB377 into two bills, one dealing with a sales tax and the other with an income tax.

"We want to pass the package bill," he said.

In proposing unity of support between his office and the Revenue Committee on the bill version reported out, Tiemann said there is no reason why the executive branch cannot work with a legislative committee "in something so great and momentous" as the tax legislation

Concessions Needed

All parties will have to make some concessions, he granted.

"Sen Carpenter has we have, and undoubtedly the committee itself will be making concessions," he declared

More Bills Advance In Senate

stood to mean only utility plant workers.

Eight other bills made their way off general file toward second reading Tuesday without running into difficulty.

High on the list was Sen. George Gerdes' LB240, legislation seen as a possible major air-pollution measure. It would permit arrests when motor vehicle mufflers are found to be excessively smoky, rather than excessively noisy and smoky.

Three additional Gerdes bills advancing were efforts designating the blue agate as the official state gem, the prairie agate as the state rock and the mammoth as the state fossil.

Gerdes said he initially sponsored the bills for some constituents and Secretary of State Frank Marsh, a confessed rock hound. But in preparing background for the proposals, Gerdes said he discovered that a surprising number of Nebraskans have interests in rocks and fossils.

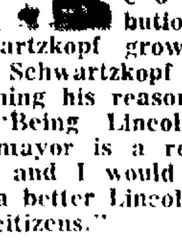
Also sent forward Tuesday was Omaha Sen. Harold Moylan's LB69, making clear that any "unsolicited goods or merchandise" received by individuals through the mail shall be considered outright gifts and not subject to payment or return.

Moylan said this should end the harassment of young couples who get demands for payment after receiving unsolicited merchandise.

Filing Is Announced

Schwartzkopf Up for Mayor

Sam Schwartzkop of 930 Eldon Drive announced Tuesday that he will file for the office of mayor of Lincoln in the April Primary.



Schwartzkopf

"Lincoln has been extremely good to my family and myself and I would like to make a substantial contribution to a growing Lincoln," Schwartzkopf noted in explaining his reason for filing. "Being Lincoln's full-time mayor is a real challenge, and I would hope to build a better Lincoln for all of its citizens."

A sales representative for Investors Diversified for the past 15 years, Schwartzkopf, 51, is a graduate of the Univeristy of Nebraska, and was an Air Force captain in World War II. A varsity football player and golfer at NU, Schwartzkopf starred in the East-West Shrine football game in 1940.

Sam and Mrs. Schwartzkopf, the former Dorothy Anderson, are the parents of three children: Louis, a senior and four-year scholarship winner at MIT; Christine, a Regents Scholar and freshman at NU, and Suzanne, an honor roll student in her junior year at Lincoln High.

An elder at First Presbyterian Church, Shwartzkopf is a former Sunday School teacher, PTA and Boy Scout leader.

Lively Discussion Main Fare at the Hungry Id

By GWEN DRAKE

Throw your peanut shells on the floor.

Talk, share your ideas about anything with everybody.

This is the scene at Lincoln's newest coffeehouse, The Hungry Id.

The Id's location is no mystery. It's located in the basement of Wesley Foundation on NU Campus. The atmosphere, colored lights partially screened by wisps of smoke, is just that . . . atmosphere.

Sunday Plans

Although the Id is now only open every Saturday from 8 p.m. to midnight, plans in the near future call for an additional Sunday night session.

The Hungry Id, an outgrowth of an earlier coffeehouse experiment sponsored by NU Wesley Foundation opened shortly before the first of the year . . . and though the clientele is usually small, their enthusiasm isn't.

The Id is more than a place to drink coffee. It is a place to drink coffee, accompanied by a folk song, or a reading from Poe, or original poetry or a discussion as current as the news.

According to Jim Reed, Wesley Foundation official, the Id was organized "to give people some place to go where they could speak freely . . . no holds barred." The Id is decorated in what could probably be called "early coffeehouse."

Cable Spools

The furniture, tables of empty cable spools and chairs of undistinguishable origin, is as impromptu as the entertainment presented in the Saturday night programs.

But, discussion, the most important commodity available at the Id, is the one thing that is always present.

"Sometimes," Reed said, "the discussion becomes so involved the entertainers are drowned out."

For those who aren't interested in talking, chess sets and checker games are made available . . . and for those who don't like coffee, there is tea (six varieties) and cider, reportedly the most popular item on the Id menu.

There are no requirements to go to the Id. If you can walk down the three steps that take you into the Id and if you want to "confront" others, the way is clear.

About the peanut shells. According to Reed, you throw the peanut shells on the floor to keep them out of the candles.

Nebraska's Centennial Show

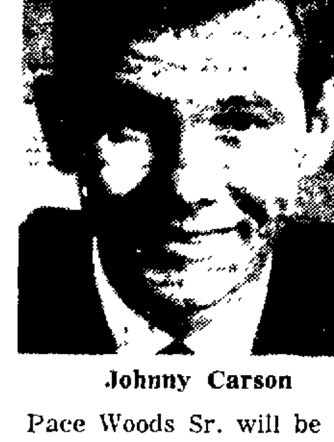
Tiemann Announces Carson's Appearance

Gov. Norbert Tiemann who is to appear Tuesday night on the Johnny Carson "Tonight Show," has announced Carson's appearance in Lincoln Apr. 1 as star of the "Show of the Century."

Along with Carson, who was a University of Nebraska classmate of Tiemann's, the Pershing Auditorium billing will also include such headliners as Omaha-born singing star Nancy Wilson, singing group The Kids Next Door, the dancing Manhattan Rockets and a dance team currently featured at the Flamingo in Las Vegas, Raye and Roman.

A feature of the "Show of the Century" will be presentation of "Notable Nebraskans" awards to former Nebraskans who have made distinguished records outside the state.

Centennial Commission Vice Chariman F. Pace Woods Sr. will be the producer of the show.



Johnny Carson

During his New York stay, accompanied by Woods and Centennial Commission Director Don Shriner, Tiemann will talk presidential politics with New York City Mayor John Lindsay.

"But by no means" should anyone think the meeting indicates that he is endorsing Lindsay for any national office, Tiemann said.

A proposed visit with New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller was stymied when Rockefeller was unable to get away from his Albany office and Tiemann's schedule proved too tight to permit him to take the side trip to the New York capital.

Also on the Governor's schedule are interviews with syndicated columnists Arky Gonzalez, Mel Shestack and Bob Considine.

Lux Offers Salary Plan

posals were the employment of teacher aids to assume non-teaching duties of teachers and classification of teacher responsibilities with commensurate salaries.

The teacher aids would be employed on a nine-months basis with a salary range of $4,000 to $5,000. They would relieve teachers of duties such as typing, correcting tests, lunchroom duty, playground duty, record keeping, etc.

Lux explained that the proposal could not be implemented all at once and some parts of it might take four or five years to accomplish.

Classroom teachers with appropriate certificate and at least a B.A. degree would start at $5,400 with $200 per year increments and a top salary of $7,000

Staff teachers would be on 10-months assignments and the salary scale would extend from $7,000 to $9,000 with $200 increments. A master's degree and at least one year of in-service training in the system would be required.

Lead teachers on 12-months appointments would be paid from $9,000 to $13,000 per year with $500 annual increments. Requirements would include an M.A. degree plus advanced preparation or outstanding teaching performance.

Duties of lead teachers would include acting as lead teacher in a teaching team, demonstration teaching or departmental chairman with curriculum development or demonstration teaching during the summer

The broad proposal included a provision that a new Board committee be formed for professional relations with one member assigned to meet with each of three committees of the Lincoln Education Committee—salaries, welfare and professional rights and responsibilities

Under Lux's plan, salary discussions would begin in January and be finalized by March 15.

The LEA secretary would be invited to meet with the Board once a month, either before or after regular meetings, to discuss staff relations.

At least some Board meetings would be scheduled during evening hours.

Five Bills Involving Special Education Are Advanced

The Legislature's committee on health and welfare Monday advanced to general file six bills, all but one providing for special education in Nebraska schools.

The lone exception was LB200, a holdover bill requiring charitable organizations soliciting funds in the state to file an annual financial statement with the secretary of state.

An amendment to LB200 would permit organizations to report to the National Health Council and would require NHC to file a report in behalf of the organization.

The special education package, all introduced by Sen. George C. Gerdes of Alliance, included LB242, LB262, LB263, LB264 and LB266.

LB265, making the State Department of Education responsible for supervision of all special training and educational programs for trainable mentally retarded children, was held for further study.

L255 Held Up

LB255, establishing six health service regions in the state, was held in committee at the request of the introducer, Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff.

Carpenter said that since he had introduced the bill, he had talked with a number of medical people who asked that LB255 be held up until their house of delegates met next Sunday to offer some refinements in the measure.

LB266, advanced to general file, would authorize the State Department of Education to employ a consultant in special education for gifted children.

Of the four approved Gerdes bills pertaining to schools for the mentally or physically handicapped, LB242 would require the county of residence to pay the cost of food and lodging for children who leave the resident's school district to attend such a school if the parents are unable to pay.

Handicapped Schools

LB262 would permit establishment of schools for the physically or mentally handicapped by school districts, area schools, intermediate service units or a combination of such districts.

LB263 would require school districts to provide special education programs for any trainable handicapped or physically handicapped children living in the district, either by establishing a school for them or by contracting with another district operating such a school.

LB264 would require the school census to separately identify mentally handicapped and physically handicapped children with referral to a physician or psychologist for specific identification.

Inmate Charged With Assault

Ernest Lee Holland, 26, an inmate at the Reformatory unit of the Nebraska Penal Complex, was arraigned in Lancaster County Court Monday on a charge of assault by an inmate in connection with the beating of a guard Thursday.

He did not enter a plea but requested a preliminary hearing, which was set for March 1.

Holland allegedly attacked and beat Capt. Reuben Loos at the Reformatory while the captain was making a routine search of inmates returning to their living quarters from the shop area.

Loos suffered facial lacerations.

Sandahl Rites To Be Thursday At McLean, Va.

Washington (AP) — Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Thursday at McLean Va., for Clifford F. Sandahl, 60, former Nebraska newspaper man who died Monday.

A native of Oakland, Neb., Mr. Sandahl was stricken with an abdominal illness Wednesday.

The son of Mr. Sandahl the late Rev. C. F. Sandahl, long-time president of the Nebraska Conference of the National Augustana Lutheran Church, Mr. Sandahl himself held various positions in the church.

A graduate of the University of Nebraska, he joined the Associated Press in Omaha in 1935. He was with the AP here when in 1941 he became editor of the North Platte, Neb., Daily Telegraph-Bulletin. He later held various public relations jobs, the latest with Liberty Lobby.

Besides his wife, the former Clara Amend of Lincoln, Neb., he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Terry Hummel, Alexandria, Va., and Virginia Sandahl, a junior at the University of Georgia.

Three Accused Of Taking Bets Plea No Contest

Three men pleaded no contest to gambling charges of taking bets on a horse race in a public place and were fined $75 each in Lancaster County Court Monday.

Charged with gambling were Lynn A. May, James Sheedy, and Earl Diamond.

A fourth man, arrested by Lincoln Police Saturday for taking bets at a barbershop at 27th and Y streets, was not charged Chief Deputy County Attorney Bill Blue said because of insufficient evidence.

According to Lincoln Police Chief Joe Carroll, the operation involved placing bets on a person to person basis without the use of wires or electronic circuits, and the amount of betting was on a small scale.

'Special' Desserts

For Company Or the Family

By POLLY PARSONS

Perfect for a company tea or a light dessert for the family, these treats are so easy to make they can be served often for all sorts of occasions.

Peppermint Pink Mold

- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
- ½ cup sugar
- ⅛ teaspoon salt
- 2 separated eggs
- 1¼ cups milk
- ¼ teaspoon peppermint flavoring or ½ cup crushed peppermint stick candy
- Red food coloring
- 1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Mix gelatin, ¼ cup of the sugar and salt in saucepan. Beat together egg yolks and milk; add to gelatin mixture. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until gelatin dissolves and mixture thickens slightly, about 5 minutes.

Remove from heat; add peppermint flavoring or candy. Tint with few drops red food coloring. Chill until mixture is slightly thicker than the consistency of unbeaten egg white.

Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Gradually add remaining ¼ cup sugar and beat until very stiff. Fold into gelatin mixture. Fold in whipped cream.

Turn into a 5-cup mold; chill until firm. Unmold. If desired, garnish with additional whipped cream. Makes 6 servings.

Strawberry Jewels

- 1 cup soft butter or margarine
- 2 3-ounce packages softened cream cheese
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 cup rolled oats
- Strawberry preserves

Beat butter and cream cheese together until creamy. Blend in vanilla. Sift together flour and salt. Add to creamed mixture, mixing well. Stir in oats. Chill dough about one hour.

Roll out on lightly floured board or canvas to ¼-inch thickness. Cut with floured 2-inch round cutter. Place on ungreased cookie sheets. Press with thumb to make indentation in center of each cookie; fill with a scant ½ teaspoon strawberry preserves.

Bake in preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) about 20 minutes or until a delicate golden brown. Makes 3½ dozen.

Roaches Wed Tuesday

Miss Janet JoAnn Hoffman and Michael W. Roach were married in a 2 p.m. Tuesday ceremony in the chapel of Grace Methodist Church.

Parents of the couple are Messrs. and Mmes. A. D. Roach of Upland, Calif., and Clarence Hoffman.

The bride's taffeta gown was overlaid with lace. A detachable train added back interest, and a pearl-studded taffeta flower held her veil.

Honor attendants were Miss Scarlet Leach and James McNeal. Marvin Molzer of Hallam and Robert Hoffman ushered.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will live in Lincoln.

Mrs. Michael Roach (Miss Janet Hoffman)

Beauty Hint

To give your complexion a delightful bloom use this simple beauty trick. Damp a cloth in lemon [illegible] and press over your face moulding it to your features. Lie back for a few minutes whilst the lemon tones and refines the skin. Now to vitalize and hold the bloom, smooth on your [illegible] Olay and keep it there always under your makeup to protect against wrinkle-dryness and to give the skin a day-long dewy look.

Ann Landers
Education Gone . . . To the Dogs?

Dear Ann Landers: I thought I had heard everything when all those nuts wrote in to tell you they sang at their own weddings and "everyone just loved it." Today I ran across some more evidence that people are getting buggier by the minute:

I see by the South Portland-Cape Elizabeth Journal that commencement exercises were held for dogs. The place was packed with proud "parents."

Down the aisle pranced a poodle, a collie, a Doberman, and so on—all wearing the traditional mortar board with hanging tassels. These dogs had completed their obedience classes and were presented with ribbon-tied diplomas. Their masters were as puffed up as if a son or daughter had made Phi Beta Kappa.

I am enclosing the newspaper story, complete with picture.

Steady Reader

Dear Steady: To those who insist that education is going to the dogs, what better proof do you need? Thanks for my laugh for the day.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a boy 17 years old. My parents were divorced two years ago. Last year my mother remarried. My stepfather was very good to me until he began to slap my mother around. When I tried to protect her he would get mad at me for butting in and I'd catch it, too.

One night he knocked out Mom's two front teeth and she left him. Two months later they made up, he paid for some new teeth, and then he knocked them out. They went back together three days before Christmas, but on Christmas Eve he hit her again. I told Mom if she went back to him again I was going to live with my Dad and his new wife.

I packed and left, only to find that my Dad and stepmother were fighting just like Mom and her second husband. I miss my school and my friends and I want to go back home but I can't decide if I should. Please tell me what to do.

Battle Fatigue

Dear B.F.: It sounds as if one place is as bad as the other, and there's nothing you can do about it, so you might as well be with your friends and schoolmates.

It's a sad commentary when a 17-year-old boy has to write such a letter. I hope every pair of battling parents reads it and feels ashamed.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I have been married for seven years. We have three children.

I feel like I am living in the dark ages. My husband refuses to allow me to wear shorts in the summer or stretch pants in the winter. All the other young wives in the neighborhood dress this way and nobody thinks anything about it. My husband says he is against such clothing for religious reasons.

Religion is just as important to me as it is to him and I don't see anything sacriligious about shorts or stretch pants.

What are your ideas on this. Thank you.

Texas Woman

Dear Woman: Some women look terrible in shorts and stretch pants and their husbands are opposed to them for this reason.

I say if a husband is opposed to shorts and stretch pants for any reason, a wife should respect his wishes. There are plenty of attractive skirts you can wear—and I hope you will.

Beckwith Will Run For Lt. Governor

Jackson, Miss. (AP) — Byron de la Beckwith, who was twice tried for the ambush murder of civil rights leader Medgar W. Evers, announced his candidacy for lieutenant governor of Mississippi.

Dist. Atty. Bill Waller, who prosecuted Beckwith, is a candidate for governor. Both trials resulted in hung juries.

Direct Election Favored

Houston (UPI) — The American Bar Association (ABA), over the objections of two of its former presidents, went on record as favoring the direct election of the president of the United States.

By a vote of 171-57, the ABA's House of Delegates recommended Congress start proceedings that would do away with the electoral college system.

Powell Travel Probed

Washington (UPI) — An investigator suggested that many of the "official" trips Adam Clayton Powell made to Miami really were personal jaunts en route to his vacation retreat on the Island of Bimini.

The investigator, Robert Gray of the General Accounting Office (GAO), offered that conclusion after submitting detailed records of travel by Powell and some of his associates

Gray testified before the select House committee which is considering whether Powell should be seated in Congress

Gray answered "yes" when asked by a committee counsel if it appeared that a great deal of the Powell travel he audited was for "personal reasons."

LBJ Plans Housing Bill

Washington (UPI)—President Johnson will ask Congress Wednesday for a three-step law aimed at outlawing discrimination in sale or rental of all housing, including private homes,

The bill Johnson will propose will be basically the same as that he originally proposed last year and which, even after being diluted, was killed in the Senate

The new open housing legislation will call for voluntary compliance in the first year. In the second year, discrimination would be banned in large housing developments and apartments.

Why Are You Ignored When You Talk?

A noted publisher in Chicago reports a simple technique of everyday conversation which can pay you real dividends in social and business advancement and works like magic to give you poise, self-confidence and greater popularity.

According to this publisher, many people do not realize how much they could influence others simply by what they say and how they say it. Whether in business, at social functions, or even in casual conversations with new acquaintances there are ways to make a good impression every time you talk.

To acquaint the readers of this paper with the easy-to-follow rules for developing skill in everyday conversation, the publishers have printed full details of their interesting self-training method in a new book, "Adventures in Conversation," which will be mailed free to anyone who requests it. Bauer Named Athletic Director at East High

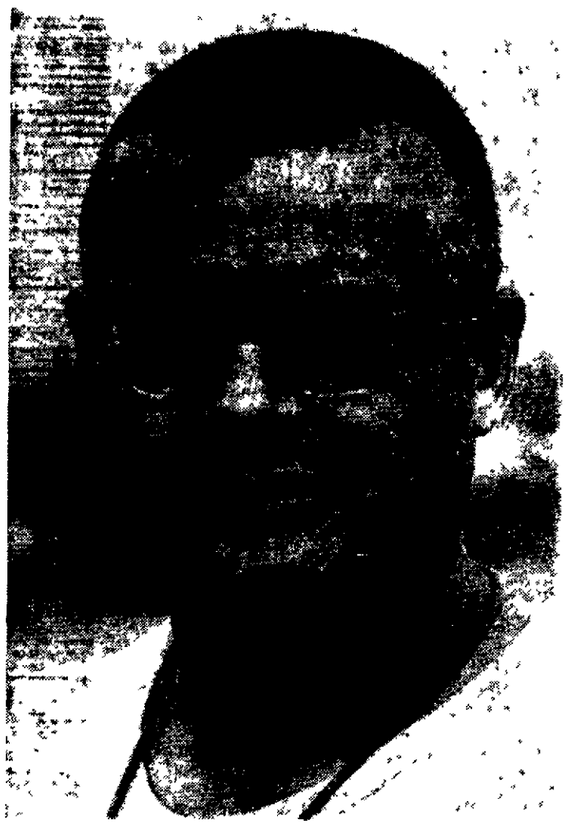
Art: 'Can't Coach All My Life'



East's New Athletic Director Art Bauer

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

Art Bauer, who lifted Lincoln Northeast to the top in Nebraska high school football play, has resigned his coaching job to become director of athletics at Lincoln's new East High School.

Confirmation of his appointment was made Tuesday by the Lincoln Board of Education.

"It was a tough decision. Northeast has been real good to me," says Bauer, "but I can't coach all my life and I feel that this is a good opportunity and I'll be able to remain in athletics."

Bauer, a 1952 graduate of the University of Nebraska, posted a 30-23 record in six years at Sidney before taking the Northeast job in 1957.

His Northeast teams have compiled a 62-26-3 record in 10 seasons and the Rockets have been little short of sensational starting with a state championship 1961 team.

In the past six years the Rockets have had records of 9-0, 7-2, 9-0, 8-1, 8-1 and 8-1.

He was named Nebraska High School Coach of the Year by The Sunday Journal and Star in 1964 after having a second unbeaten team in three seasons

And in 1965 he directed the South's 7-0 upset of the North in the annual Shrine Bowl football game

His teams have been characterized by quickness, sound fundamentals and a remarkable ability to turn opponents' mistakes into touchdowns.

"I feel that one of the strong points at Northeast has been the exceptional spirit of the kids, not only in athletics, but in the whole student body as well," Art says.

Journal Sports

LINCOLN, NEBR., TUESDAY, FEB. 14, 1967 P M —PAGE 11

"It will be a challenge to be in a new school and get things going. If the students there can have the same attitude they have had at Northeast we'll be all right," he adds.

Bauer, whose salary in the new position will be $10,340, is confident that East will be able to be competitive in Class A in the near future

"After a couple of years we ought to be quite representative When our sophomore class of this fall becomes a senior class we should have a fine athletic program," he points out

"You won't find any better facilities than we'll have They're just outstanding I think that this will be a great help to us in getting the program going," Bauer says.

Harlan Taylor, principal at Northeast, expressed his appreciation for Bauer's efforts at Northeast as follows·

"When Mr Bauer decided to accept the athletic directorship at Lincoln East High School the coaching profession and Lincoln Northeast High School lost a winner and a gentleman.

"It is rather difficult to expand on that statement We can only repeat what we have for years said to northeast Lincoln parents at the beginning of the football season

" 'Win, lose or draw, your boy enjoys a fine privilege simply by working with a squad coached by Mr. Bauer and his staff.'

"What a really fine situation exists when hard work, integrity and the highest of ethical standards results in outstanding success"

Taylor added that nothing has been done about finding a successor for Bauer at this time, but that he hoped that this could be accomplished without too much delay

Football Coach

LeRoy Zentic

Basketball Coach

Paul Forch

Forch, Zentic Picked

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

LeRoy Zentic and Paul Forch, two well-known names in Nebraska high school coaching circles, are the first coaching appointments at Lincoln's new East High School.

Zentic was named head football coach and Forch head basketball coach by the Lincoln Board of Education Tuesday morning.

Both Zentic, who was at Tecumseh before taking his current post at Shenandoah, Iowa and Forch, who has been at McCook have compiled top records in their relatively brief coaching tenures

In four years at Tecumseh Zentic's football squads posted a 20-15 record and he brought four basketball teams to the state tournament His three-year-record at Shenandoah has been 21-1-3

Forch, who piloted McCook to its first West Big Ten basketball title in 1962-63 and followed with three more divisional champs, has compiled a 68-29 mark in five seasons. His 1964-65 outfit was runner-up to Boys Town in the state tournament

Both regard their positions at East, which opens its doors this fall, as being filled with opportunity and challenge

"It will be quite a challenge, but the possibilities of the new school are great" says Zentic, a three-year football letterman at the University of Nebraska

We will suffer because of our limited numbers and inexperience in the first year or two and the big task will be to build up pride and tradition," he adds

Forch, a native of Stratton and a Kearney State graduate, says, "I'm enthused with the opportunity It will be a young school with young kids and we don't expect to set the world on fire for a year or two, but it shouldn't take too long to get competitive in basketball"

"I've always wanted to get into the Lincoln school system because of the type of athletic competition they have," he adds.

Zentic a Rock Island, Ill., native will be leaving his Shenandoah successor a strong nucleus with talented junior quarterback Van Brownson and good line returning

"It was a difficult decision but I'm looking forward to this new opportunity" he says

His teaching assignments will be in physical education and he's expected to assist in track

Forch who helped develop NU sophomore Roger Leitner at McCook, will be a biology teacher

Van Says He Lost Respect

Compiled From News Wires

Norm Van Brocklin, who resigned Saturday as coach of the Minnesota Vikings, said he lost the respect of his players when he quit the National Football League team in 1965 and then returned.

"I don't think I ever did regain the respect and the attention of the players again, so it was at least part my fault," Van Brocklin said

Vikings general manager Jim Finks said he was besieged with phone calls from coaches letting him know they were interested in the vacated position. Finks said about 50 had called but that no decision would be made for several weeks . . .

NWU Now 10-11

Kenny's Cardiac Shot Cracks BV

Storm Lake, Iowa — Irv Peterson has seen a lot of basketball games in his 16 years at Nebraska Wesleyan and when he says "you don't see many like that one," you know it must have been a barnburner.

Pete was referring to his team's near-impossible 92-91 triumph over Buena Vista here Monday night. The win avenged an earlier 91-87 loss to the Beavers in Lincoln. The victory put the Plainsman season slate at 10-11.

Here's how the incredulous ending took place:

With five seconds left and Buena Vista leading, 91-90, Wesleyan's Kim Busch missed a free throw on the one and one and the Beavers' 6-7 Cliff Mortenson retrieved the shot.

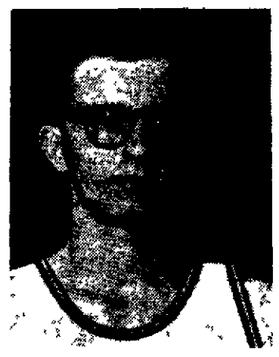
Then Buena Vista called time out with one second left. Only BV coach Merritt Ewalt knows why.

It was the Beavers' ball under the Wesleyan basket, but Butch Blittner's pass sailed over everyone's head and out of bounds. Since no one had touched it, the clock didn't start.

The Plainsmen took the ball out at mid-court. Busch passed to team scoring leader Kenny Ahl who lofted a desperation shot from 35 feet that was in the air as the buzzer sounded. It went in.

A great first half, called "our best of the season" by Peterson, got NWU off to a 54-44 intermission advantage. In all the Plainsmen hit 57 per cent.

At one point this season Wesleyan was 5-10 and it looked like Peterson was headed for his second losing season at NWU. But now the Plainsmen have won five of their last six.



Kenny Ahl
NWU Hero

"We're going to be hard to beat the rest of the way," Irv stated. "We'll be hurting though if our starters get in foul trouble."

NWU has four games left. The Plainsmen host Dana Saturday night, welcome Hastings Monday and Doane Wednesday and close Feb. 25 at Regis.

AFL Plans 10 Teams By Summer

Miami Beach, Fla. (AP)—The American Football League will expand to 10 teams by June, and Cincinnati reportedly has the inside track for the next franchise. League owners meeting here also have discussed moving the annual Super Bowl game to Miami.

Cincinnati, Birmingham, Ala., Seattle, Wash., and Phoenix, Ariz., were cities mentioned most prominently to become the league's 10th team. The owners also gave President Milt Woodard a three-year contract Monday.

Woodard's salary was not disclosed, but the contract would keep him in office until the merger of the AFL with the National Football League is completed in 1970.

In other business, the owners voted to open the upcoming season a week later than usual in order to avoid baseball scheduling conflicts at parks where the games will be played.

Many owners were concerned about the relatively poor turnout at the initial Super Bowl game at Los Angeles. Only 63,036 fans turned out for the game in the mammoth 100,000-seat Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle was present as the owners discussed the possibility of moving the Super Bowl game to Miami where the Orange Bowl is being expanded to seat 75,000.

Jack Steadman, general manager of the Kansas City Chiefs, said the Los Angeles fans adopted a rebellious attitude toward the game because of a local blackout.

Wilcox Builds Up Class D Momentum

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

New leaders emerge in both the Class C and D ranks this week as signs of strain begin to show on some of the top-rated teams.

Taking over the No. 1 spots are unbeaten Bassett in Class C and once-beaten Elmwood in Class D. Both races continue as wide-open affairs with only shades of difference between the rated teams and some impressive unrated quintets.

As tournament time approaches the thing to look for is a "hot" team and there are quite a few appearing to be reaching a peak for the opening of district eliminations next week

Included in this category is Wilcox, which will carry an 11-game string into tournament action at Minden

The once-beaten Eagles avenged their only loss last week by whipping Loomis, 55-48, in the finals of the Fort Kearney Conference tournament.

"It took us a little while to get going, but we're playing a lot better ball now," says coach Arlin Stuhr.

Last year's Wilcox club, 14-4 for the season was bumped in district tourney action by state tourney entry Overton.

Missing from that outfit when drills opened in November were starters Ken Meyers, Bob Swanson and Rodney Jurgens.

But Stuhr has come up with a fine blend of holdover lettermen and underclassmen.

"I think that more than anything else balance has been the big thing for us. We seldom have anybody score 20 points, but in our first 10 games, for example, we had six different scoring leaders," he points out.

The Eagles don't have a big man, but again have balance in the height department

Seniors Ken Gitt (6-1), A. L. Marsteller (5-10), Rick Harms (6-0) and John Burkholder (6-0) have been joined by juniors Roger Blank (6-1) and Butch Nitchie (6-0) as the Wilcox leaders.

Stuhr employs a double post with the relatively inexperienced Gitt and Blank manning the pivot spots

It isn't that Gitt hasn't been around, but he was a guard last year "I think that's helped him, he has some good moves in there," claims Stuhr.

But the real surprise has been Blank, who didn't even play varsity ball last year and is now carrying a 17-point scoring average.

"He's really come along," says Stuhr, "he grew two or three inches and worked hard all summer"

The other four provide the outside shooting needed to keep the enemy defenses honest

The Eagles, who like to run whenever possible, are hoping to sprint right into Lincoln for the state tournament

"We'll be disappointed if we don't make it," says Stuhr

NU to Meet Tide Again

You can't buy a ticket yet, but in the event Nebraska and Alabama don't get together in a bowl game between now and then the Cornhuskers will have a third engagement with the Tide.

And the two teams will play right here in Lincoln in September — 1977 that is.

Alabama, eager to erase the stigma of what is described as a pussyfoot schedule, has lined up home and home schedules with NU, Southern Cal and Texas Christian.

NU athletic director Tippy Dye had said earlier that the two schools were trying to arrange some games and it has been confirmed now.

Alabama will play in Memorial Stadium Sept. 17, 1977 and NU will play at Alabama Sept. 23, 1978

Alabama also plays home and home with Southern Cal the same years and home and home with TCU in 1974 and 1975. A single game is set with Baylor in 1979.

Meanwhile the meeting of Alabama and Nebraska proved a lucrative one as the Sugar Bowl popped with a record take for the two schools

They will split $472,000 which compares with $382,000 last year.

The Nebraska half of $236,000 is somewhat misleading. From that figure comes expense money of $75,000 plus $25 per mile one way.

This total expense added to about $100,000, the remaining $135,000 turned into the conference office.

At the end of the year the Big Eight takes what money remains after expenses in the conference office and divides it among the eight member schools

In this isolated case it would be an additional $17,000 although all money figures in, including the Big Eight basketball and indoor track meets and other bowl and television revenues

Gymnast May's Football Career Short

By CHUCK WOODLING

There isn't much call for 120-pound halfbacks. Right? So don't blame Steve May for giving up the gridiron.

Don't worry about Steve, either He found his niche. He's one of those guys who works year round with calloused hands and sore muscles to participate in gymnastics — a sport that has never been called our national pastime.

Now a Nebraska University sophomore, Steve is perhaps the best prospect out of Hastings since all-American Dennis Albers toiled for NU coach Jake Geier a few years ago.

Steve joins former Lincoln High state prep champ Mickey Johnsen to give the Huskers the most promising soph gymnastics tandem in the Big Eight But . .

"I still love football," Steve says "I wish I was big enough to play, but I found out a few years ago that I wasn't"

Today Steve stands 5-4 to go with his 120 pounds. You can imagine his girth, or lack of it, in junior high.

"You should have seen me," he says "There I was a high school freshman, weighing only 95 pounds and playing football Naturally I was a halfback"

More like a fleaback Size alone didn't end Steve's gridiron career, however A 21-inch tube helped.

Steve May
NU Gymnast

"I saw a gymnastics show on television about that time," he relates "I had always liked tumbling and things like that so I started working on it at Hastings High We had a good coach and a good program and I really liked it"

Gymnastics is Steve's main concern now, but football lingers like an albatross around his neck. "Football and gym are about equal as my favorites now," he says.

Coach Geier and assistant Francis Allen are quick to point out Steve's strong events — the long horse, the parallel bars, still rings and floor exercise

Steve is even quicker to list his poor events

"I'm lousy on the side horse and on the high bar I'm just terrible," he admits To prove it he went through his paces on the side horse

Even an unseasoned observer could see he wasn't kidding. He made the horse look like something out of an obstacle course. Nobody's perfect.

Improvement is the key and Geier states that Steve has really surprised me with the way he has come along As a freshman he was just another gymnast, but now he and Johnsen are fighting each week to see who's best all around on the team."

"I'm just out to make the team now" Steve says I haven't looked beyond that"

Geier has

"Steve has the potential to be a Big Eight champion by the time he's a senior," the vet NU coach appraised. "In two years he and Johnsen could help us win the league title"

Meanwhile the NU squad is looking to this year's Big Eight meet scheduled for March 17-18 at the Coliseum

The meet will be making its inaugural appearance here and will mark the first time a gym meet ever has been held on the Coliseum floor Iowa State is the heavy favorite.

Hergy, Neibauer Take School Instead of Sun

By Rick Akin

The top down, no trench-coat weather in February invariably trades thoughts of the jillions of times basketballs will dribble during the subsequent four weeks to the more sedate baseball.

Training has already begun for some Nebraska is doing some swatting in the field house News of the boys in the bigs absorbing sun in southern camps has begun to trickle in across the wire.

Envious? Maybe a little.

A couple of Nebraskans are in a similar position, but they had a shot at spending the next Lincoln snowstorm in Florida.

Ex-Husker pitchers Gary Neibauer and Bob Hergenrader will stay in school this spring to finish work instead of having coaches check their fast balls. Both will report in June to their assignments with the pros.

"I was supposed to report to Wilson in North Carolina, which is one of the Twins' Class A clubs," Hergenrader said. "But I was going to stay in school until June. I don't know what that will mean I may go down."

Hergenrader, a Lincoln High and NU graduate, spent last summer in St. Cloud, Minn, with the Twins' rookie league club. He's not certain what his record was.

"I think I was 8-5 but I'm not sure," he said. "I pitched the last game of the season but it was in relief and I can't remember if I was in before or after we scored the winning run.

"Everybody just tore out of there," he said. "We played 70 straight days and everybody was tired. The only breaks we had were two rainouts."

Those 70 straight might have been longer had St. Cloud been losing but it won the league championship by four games.

Hergenrader noted that his future with the Twins may be brighter since the American League team is short on left-handers throughout the organization. But he does need something more.

"They told me I needed another pitch and improvement on my curve," he said "I'll probably try to get a slider or some other fast-breaking pitch."

Neibauer expects to return to Austin, Tex., in AA ball come summer.

The Scottsbluff man worked 48 innings there last year for a 1-2 record. He worked mostly in relief for the Atlanta Braves' farm club.

"They had 10 young prospective pitchers when I reported," Neibauer said of his arrival at a rookie school in the early summer before fanning out. "I guess I must have done all right."

The most all right he did came under exhausting circumstances.

"We rode the bus all the time," he said "This one time we rode the bus all night from Little Rock to Albuquerque (1,100 miles or 17 hours) and the next night I had to pitch.

"I gave up just one run," he said. "I picked a good time to do it. One of the Braves' vice presidents just happened to be there that night."

All wasn't so jolly for Hergenrader, either. His team finished the season in Duluth, Minn., which, if my seventh grade geography serves me, is flush with Lake Superior

It was so cold, those early September days, Hergy said, that everybody broke out their wools. Even mittens

"It was unbelievably cold" he said "It was the worst experience of my life"

Nothing could be finer than to be in Carolina, huh, Herg?

By the way, another former NU pitcher who is expected to contribute to the expected rejuvenation of the New York Yankees, may miss part of the season.

Stan Bahnsen may be called to active duty for six months in National Guard The Army is on a push to train its guardsmen during the first few months of this year Yankees Mike Hegan and Bobby Murcer have already been called

Houston's Height Hits Creighton

Omaha — Houston's fifth-ranked cagers proved true here Monday night the old Chinese proverb which says, "man dropping apples into basket from above basket will get his basket full quicker than man standing below basket throwing apples up to it."

The tall, high-bounding Cougars shot most of their field goals on a downward path to the baskets at the Civic Auditorium here in handing Creighton an 87-80 setback.

But the victory didn't come until after Creighton had given the crowd of 5,412 visions of an upset in the home finale for the Bluejays

And it may be fortunate that it was the final home game since the baskets were still bouncing from having Cougars hanging from them as the crowd filed out of the auditorium.

Houston hit 54% from the field and only 57% from the free throw line which further indicates that the Cougars have trouble when they have to arch their shots as one does when shooting from the free throw stripe.

After getting the crowd oohing and aahing during the warm-up sessions with their dunk shots, the Cougars continued the same tactics after the official tossed up the ball to start the contest.

All-American candidate Elvin Hayes, a 6-8, 235-pound junior who at first glance looks like a member of the Harlem Globetrotters who arrived a day early (the Globetrotters play here tonight), led the winners with 38 points, 22 of them in the second half.

Creighton's record now stands at 12-10 with a Saturday night date coming up at Memphis State

Creighton Gives New Contract To McManus

Omaha — Creighton basketball coach and athletic director Red McManus' contract was renewed Monday night by unanimous vote of the Creighton athletic board.

The Very Rev. H. W. Linn, SJ made the announcement at the conclusion of Monday night's basketball game here with Houston, with which the Bluejays dropped to 12-10.

The athletic board did not set any length to the contract, but the action was taken as a vote of confidence for McManus, who has come under some criticism in the past few days

'Pokes Latest Victim
Second Term KU Toughest

By Associated Press

It's fast becoming a watchword in Big Eight basketball —Look out for Kansas after the mid-term break.

In three seasons under coach Ted Owens, Kansas is playing 900 ball the second term, with 18 victories in 20 games, including their last 12 in a row in conference play.

Kansas made it four straight after the mid-term break by whipping Oklahoma State 52-39 Monday night at Lawrence to stay atop the standings at 7-1. Colorado tied Nebraska for second at 6-2 by defeating Iowa State 67-55 at Boulder. Oklahoma was beaten at home by Drake, 76-73, despite 26 points by OU's Willie Rogers.

Fourth-place K-State, 4-3, is at Missouri, 1-7, Tuesday night.

Owens believes in using the second week of the two-week break for extra-hard practices. This time he put his club through three two-a-day sessions and they responded with the best first half of the season at Iowa State.

An unrelenting man-for-man defense with frequent half-court pressure has been the big Kansas weapon. It shows up in poor field shooting by opponents. Iowa State hit only 29 per cent of its field shots, Nebraska 29, K-State 31 and Oklahoma State 32 for an over-all 30.2. Kansas hit 46.1 per cent in the same span. Nebraska's 58 points was high.

In the four games the Jayhawks have given up only 50.5 points a game, pushing their full-season average down to 59.1, among the nation's best.

In 1965, Owens' first season at Kansas, the Jayhawks started 3-3, then lost only to champion Oklahoma State twice in the second term. Last year Kansas was 8-0 in league play the second semester.

Oklahoma State was down only 23-16 at halftime, using a deliberate offense to offset a Kansas press.

In the first three minutes of the last half, Kansas used a 10-0 spurt to break it open. The Jayhawks also took charge after inteirmission in their other three second-term victories.

Colorado's Lynn Baker, back in top form after a mid-season injury, led the Buffs with 22 points and his slick passing led to many goals. Pat Frink's outside bombing gave the Buffs 18 more. Colorado led all the way. Iowa State's Don Smith, the league's top scorer, had 22 points but the Cyclones slipped to 4-6 in league play.

Resolution Asks Class C Licensees to Delay Selling Off-Sale

The City Council, on a 4-2 vote, has passed a resolution asking Lincoln liquor and beer retailers to refrain temporarily from selling at off-sale.

The Council wants them to wait until a bill sponsored by the city to restrict them more than they are under a state-issued Class C license is considered by the Legislature.

Local beer and liquor retailers reportedly were to meet Tuesday night to discuss the latest Council action, another effort to deprive some of them of off-sale privileges.

The Council is supporting LB831, which would permit the local governing body in cities over 100,000 to determine whether the license should be restricted to on-sale only.

Voting for the resolution were Council members Mrs. Helen Boosalis, Ervin Peterson, John Selleck and Lloyd Hinkley. Against were John Comstock and Carroll Thompson.

The adopted resolution said "the Council appreciates the cooperation of liquor and beer retailers in signing and complying with the Class C agreement. In view of the rulings of the Liquor Control Commission, the city questions as to whether said agreement can be enforced. However, we would appreciate the continued cooperation of the liquor and beer retailers pending a final decision by the legislature on LB831."

A police report to the Council said that at least three of those who signed the restricted agreement now were selling off-sale because they and some others felt the agreement was null and void.

"We are still trying to ride the fence," said Councilman Hinkley when asked what was the significant of the latest resolution

Mrs. Boosalis also asked for a copy of the testimony of Liquor Commissioner Ray Osborn of Lincoln at the committee hearing on LB320, killed by the committee, 5-0.

Osborn, former city public safety director, criticized the Council's liquor policy and said the city of Lincoln stirred up the present controversy.

Mrs Boosalis asked to see the testimony "to see where we went wrong."

Another resolution, prepared by Councilman Thompson, called the agreement "null and void" but it wasn't voted upon because the other resolution was passed.

Councilman John Comstock reminded the council that "people tried to help us set our policy and then we prejudice them."

City Attorney Ralph Nelson said the city should not find the agreement null and void. He said there was support in the legislature for LB831.

"The commission hasn't overruled the city," contended Nelson "They have said the agreement was a local issue."

LB831 would give legal support to the city's present attempt to restrict Class C licensees from selling liquor or beer off-sale.

The bill provides for two types of Class C licenses — C-1 which would permit the present Class C privileges and C-II, restricted Class C privileges.

The fear of reprisals by the city was mentioned by many Class C licensees who have been hesitant to exercise the off-sale portion of their licenses, according to a police report given the Council.

The Council recommended approval of the application of the Country Club of Lincoln for a Class C license effective May 1. Council members noted that the licensed premises includes the entire area within the club's boundaries.

The Council failed to make a recommendation on the Class C application of Y Motel, Inc., doing business as the Colonial Inn at 5600 Cornhusker Highway.

Council members voted 3-2 to deny the application on the basis the applicants didn't sign the off-sale restricted agreement Four votes on a motion are needed.

Hinkley, Selleck and Peterson favored the motion to deny, Thompson and Comstock voted against and Mrs. Boosalis was excused from voting because her brother-in-law leases the restaurant at the establishment.

Ak-Sar-Ben Is Denied C License

The State Liquior Control Commission has denied a Class C Liquor license to Ak-Sar-Ben, Omaha civic group.

The Governors of Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben had applied for a liquor-by-the-drink license for operations at Ak-Sar-Ben Field, 63rd and Shirley Streets.

In its report, the Liquor Commission noted the Omaha City Council had recommended the Ak-Sar-Ben application be rejected and that protests against issuance had been additionally received.

Regents to Eye Tiemann Budget

The University of Nebraska Board of Regents will meet Friday at 10 30 a m in the Administration building

Gov. Norbert Tiemann is expected to release his University budget recommendations prior to the session

The Regents have asked the University be allocated $91 million in state tax funds for the two-year fiscal period beginning July 1. This includes $24 million in capital improvements

Dr. Clayton Yeutter, Tiemann's executive assistant, has said the governor's proposal will be substantially below this. However, no figures have been disclosed.

A major decision facing the governor is whether to increase tuition at the University School officials would prefer no change in current rates

Earlier Tiemann tied part of his state colleges' budget to a tuition hike.

The one thing no other life insurance company can offer your family...

People, it is sometimes said, are much alike We can't agree when it comes to life insurance agents. Ours are very different Mass Mutual agents are an elite corps of skilled professionals who are, we believe, the finest in the industry.

Consider, for example, these three standards in comparison with industry averages three times as many Mass Mutual agents have earned the Chartered Life Underwriter designation four times as many have won the National Quality Award . . . six times as many are members of the Million Dollar Round Table.

Mass Mutual provides its agents with the very best in policies, training and services—in return we ask a lot of our agents We ask for more work, more study, more dedication than most people would believe possible

The result is life insurance that is tailor-made for your family, insurance of the sort an agent would write if he were doing it for himself. When an agent from Mass Mutual calls on you, you know you have at your command the very best the life insurance industry can offer.

After all, isn't that what your family deserves?

Imaginary County, City Form

Public Health Is Practiced

By BESS JENKINS

An entire city and county of 182,000 population have moved into Lincoln for the week.

But only a small group of statewide public health workers knew of its existence until today.

The city is Dixon, a typical population of 140,000 living in the 25-square-mile area, and the county is Tiller.

It's an imaginary city and county on paper, packaged and carried all over the nation by U.S. Public Health's community services training personnel from the National Communicable Diseases Center in Atlanta, Ga., as a "teaching reference community."

'Typical' Community

Despite its non-existence except by documents, Dixon and Tiller can become a familiar "community" to the nurses, public health administrators and sanitarians participating in a week-long training course at the Cornhusker.

A series of brochures lays total facts about the "typical" community before the health worker-student to show how total environment influences control of communicable diseases.

The course will disclose by detection method that Dixon and Tiller do have several communicable disease problems: infectious hepatitis, salmonella usually caused by food contamination and some institutional infections—all influenced by environmental aspects in the make-believe community.

Gilbert Kelso, chief of this hypothetical community training team from Atlanta, says Dixon may not exist but its problems created by poor housing, water system defects, increasing solid waste disposal, air pollution and even accidents are very real in the nation today.

Requested Course

Also here from Atlanta's communicable disease center as instructors are John A. Frierson, James V. Peavy, Robert Sanders, James M. Stewart, George Mallison, and Harry Wettig of the Kansas City regional office.

This first-in-Nebraska course was requested by the health workers' state training committee and the State Health Dept.

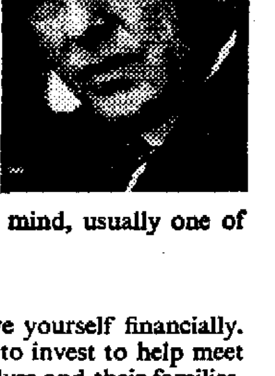
For the Birds

Denver (UPI) — Howard Hill, 16, of Denver, learned some laws are strictly for the birds. Hill was fined $25 for illegal possession of a hawk that had been shipped to him from California.

"I'm a stock broker. Here's one thing I find that smart investors have in common."



"They start out with a specific goal in mind, usually one of these three: growth, income or safety."

Isn't it just a matter of making money?

"That's the idea, of course—to improve yourself financially. But the smart people in the market try to invest to help meet certain objectives they've set for themselves and their families, after first providing for living expenses and the usual emergencies."

But everybody must want growth?

"Of course. The country is growing and they want to grow with it. When we talk about growth as a goal, we mean growth in the value of the stock over a period of time. The investor is willing to leave his money in a stock, to ride over the normal ups and downs of the market, with the idea that his money will grow to help him in later years."

How can an investor pick a growth stock?

"If you take the stocks on the New York Stock Exchange as a whole, the record shows that their value has grown with the country over a period of years. Listed stocks are generally the biggest companies, with proven records. But there's no guarantee, of course, that any one stock will grow in any given period. The thing to do is ask your broker for facts and advice, then use your good common sense in estimating a company's prospects."

What if I needed more income to help me over some hurdles now?

"Then your primary goal would be to get a good dividend return, though you would still hope that the value of your stock would grow. Preferred stocks or bonds might be other ways to fill your need for a second income."

Where does safety fit in as a goal?

"There's some risk in any investment, whether securities or anything else. Your circumstances and your temperament may suggest a conservative approach. Then you'd look into the relative safety of principal with good yield that high-grade preferred stocks or bonds might offer."

If a goal is all that important, would you say that's the first thing an investor and broker should talk about?

"The very first. And don't feel the slightest bit shy about asking his opinion, if you're not completely sure what your goal should be. He's there to help, and if you and he have a good idea of what you want your investment to do—well, how could you make a better start?"

Lincoln Firm 'Tops'

First Federal In 'Elite 100'

First Federal Savings and Loan Assn. of Lincoln put Nebraska in the national savings and loan limelight for the first time by earning a spot on the roster of the United States' 100 largest such firms.

The 60-year-old Lincoln financial house placed 100th on the list, showing its 1966 assets as $170,984,000. Savings totaled $143,724,000 for the same year.

First Federal's climb to the list also increased the number of states represented on the top 100 to 26.

California has 32 institutions on the list of 100, including the nation's single largest savings and loan firm, Home Savings of Los Angeles, which passed the $2 billion mark in savings and assets in 1966. New York State has a dozen institutions in the 100 group.

First Federal, headed by Mrs. Gladys Forsyth, has two offices in Lincoln and two in Omaha.

Judiciary Group Oks LB395

Bill Adds Teeth to Arrest Power of Peace Officers

By BILL TILLINGHAST

The Judiciary Committee Monday unanimously advanced to the floor of the Legislature a bill adding strength to the arrest power of law enforcement officials.

Amended by its introducer, Sen. Harold T. Moylan, LB395 would grant to peace officers the right to arrest on probable cause an individual the officer believes committed a felony or misdemeanor.

Bill Unopposed

The bill, unopposed, was championed by Clarence Meyer, Nebraska Attorney General; William Blue of the Lancaster County Attorney's office; James Moyland of the Douglas County Attorney's office; and Donald Sass, a Fairbury attorney representing the Nebraska Sheriffs and Peace Officers Assn.

Meyer said that in light of recent U.S. Supreme Court decisions concerning law enforcement, the adoption of the bill would bring Nebraska arrest laws up to date with modern transportation and communications facilities.

Meyer noted that officers may now arrest felony suspects without a warrant if reasonable grounds exist but they cannot arrest a person suspected of a misdemeanor, unless they witness the crime.

The bill would grant officers the right to arrest misdemeanor suspects when there is reasonable cause to believe the individual committed the crime and will not be arrested if not apprehended then.

The Atty. Gen. said this law would aid officers when a suspect is from another state and may not be around at a later time.

The bill also empowers officers to arrest in cases of domestic problems when called by one of the participants and would give officers the right to search a vehicle incidental to the arrest.

If officers now stop a car to question the passengers in connection with a firecracker incident, for example, the officers cannot use as evidence the firecrackers in the car or anything else illegal in the vehicle.

Advanced Bills

The committee, chaired by Sen. Fred Carstens of Beatrice, also unanimously advanced to general file LB361, unanimously killed LB390, and advanced LB528 on a 5-3 vote after first voting 4-4 to postpone.

Neither LB361 nor LB528 had any opposition. The former would amend current state law to include the Nebraska Soil and Water Conservation Commission as one of the state agencies receiving complimentary copies of legislative bills.

The second bill, LB528, introduced by Senator Edward Danner, was amended in four places before passage.

The bill, which would make it unlawful for any property owner to allow junk to accumulate to the point that it became a potential health hazard, was first amended by Sen. Danner to define junk as scrap copper, brass, iron, steel, rope, rags, batteries, rubber debris, waste, paper, trash, and wrecked vehicles.

Before approving the bill, the Committee deleted "unsightly" to describe the accumulation, deleted "outside the corporate limits of any city or village" and added "State or City" health department" as the agency empowered to investigate.

Indefinitely postponed by the Committee was LB390, which would amend current law to give the county attorney discretionary power in determining which peace officer was assigned to travel to another county or state to return a fugitive from justice.

The bill was supported by Ted Kessner, representing the Police Officers Assn. of Nebraska; Captain Dale Adams, representing the Lincoln Police Department; and Beatrice Police Chief Merl Hesser.

Opposed were Fairbury attorney Don Sass, representing the Nebraska Sheriffs and Peace Officers Assn.; and sheriffs from Dawson, Phillips and Lincoln Counties.

Proponents of the measure cited the need for officers who investigated a case to be the ones who returned him from the arrest scene so that they could conduct further interrogation, and possibly investigate in the city of arrest.

Opponents argued that investigating officers are usually invited along now and that it would require the counties to maintain separate budgets whereas now it is all listed under the sheriff's budget.

Housing Pact Is Endorsed

Amended for New Projects

An agreement with the Lincoln Housing Authority for the development of low-income housing has been endorsed by the City Council.

The Council endorsement, however, didn't come until the agreement was amended to give the Council authority to disapprove new construction projects.

Councilman John Comstock strongly urged the amendment to the agreement which has been tabled two weeks.

Councilman Carroll Thompson, also a member of the Authority, said he felt the amended agreement would be all right.

The "Cooperation Agreement" between the housing authority and the city is necessary before federal funds can be made available under the Federal Housing Act.

It relates to the operation of the approximately 1,000 dwellings at Lincoln Air Force Base, now owned by the government and managed by the authority, and the future construction of 500 new units.

Under the agreement, the authority will submit each new construction project to the council for its review and approval or disapproval. The 500 new units will be built at intervals and the council has insisted on approving each specific project.

The new construction and eventual ownership of the air base housing is part of the authority's program to provide low-rent housing, especially for the elderly. The authority is presently undertaking a lease-rent program using existing rental units.

Authority attorney Nate Holman said the group will meet Wednesday night to offer its reaction to the council resolution. Authority members have indicated they hoped the council would approve the concept of 500 new units, and not each specific project.

A companion resolution was approved authorizing the authority to apply for a $119,000 loan for preliminary planning.

Human Relations Group Named By Mayor; Confirmation Pending

Mayor Dean Petersen has named nine members to the city's first human relations commission but the city council took no immediate action since the confirming resolution was not on the council's agenda for business.

Council members said they would take action on the resolution next week after the public was allowed to appear on it.

The mayor recommended the following appointments and terms:

—Mrs. Hulda Roper, Miss Kay Thompson and Harry W. Peterson for the term expiring Feb., 13, 1968.

—Curtis D. Kimball, Gary Hill and Mrs. J. M. Daly for the term expiring Feb., 13, 1969.

—Chan Tyrrell, Mrs. John Knight and Charles Thone for the term expiring February 13, 1970.

The Council earlier approved a human relations ordinance as authorized by a city charter amendment. However, the commission's membership was an administrative duty left to the mayor for action.

In other business, the Council has:

Dry Cleaning—Ask for an ordinance on request of Herbert H. Heumann for consideration of methods to permit coin operated dry cleaning machines to be operated in G Local Business zoning case location.

Insurance Study Told

'7-Day Hospital Bill $283.13'

More than two-thirds of Nebraska's population of 1,044,000 citizens had hospital expense insurance as of Dec. 31, 1965, the Health Insurance Institute of New York City reports.

In figures compiled for the state, the Institute says 801,000, or more than half the population also were covreed by surgical expense insurance.

The study shows that the average cost per hospital stay of an average 7.7 days in Nebraska amounted to $283.13.

Nebraska had 284 health insurance organizations licensed to provide coverage. They paid out $49,904,000 in benefits for 1964, latest total year available.

The state's 100 hospitals had 4,840 patients on an average day during 1965. Total patient admissions for the year were 229,967.

For each 100 patients, hospitals had a total 232 full-time personnel on the job.

The Health Insurance Institute profile for Nebraska reports there were 1,232 physicians in private practice as of Jan. 3, 1966; 943 non-federal dentists as of mid-1965; 998 registered pharmacists as of Jan. 1, 1966 and 4,630 employed professional registered nurses as of 1962.

Pollution Law OKd

Council Action Is Unanimous

Lincoln's new air pollution control ordinance will allow the burning of leaves and grass under present city safety requirements.

The ordinance, passed unanimously by the City Council, will not regulate the emission of exhaust from buses, automobiles and trucks.

Lincoln is the first city in the state to adopt comprehensive measures against air pollution.

"The success of this law will be measured in direct proportion to the amount of cooperation between the city, its citizens and industries," said Lester Sanger, City-County Health Dept. environmental health director.

All open burning is prohibited without a permit, which shall be issued only if "there is no other practicable method except open burning which can be employed to dispose of the refuse or salvage operations."

The Council amended the ordinance twice before it passed—once to delete leaves and grass from the definition of refuse and again to require that the control officer must approve or deny an open burning application within five days.

The amendments were requested by Leo Bartunek and attorney Hyman Polsky, representing a local metal works.

Hastings Mental Hospital Chief Wins 1967 Award

Hastings — Dr. Carl Gouldman, superintendent of the Hastings State Mental Hospital is the Hastings Chamber of Commerce's 1967 boss of the year recipient.

The honor was bestowed on the Germany-born psychiatrist at the Chamber's annual Greater Hastings dinner Monday night.

Dr. Gouldman has been on the Hastings Hospital staff 20 years, serving as assistant director until he assumed the top post two years ago.

Adams County Sheriff Robert Anderson received the Hastings Chamber's good government award and Jack Minchell, Hastings public school music teacher, the outstanding educator award.

3 Real Estate Bills Approved

Three bills proposing various changes in laws affecting the real estate business were approved by the Legislature's Banking, Commerce and Insurance Committee.

The bills, submitted by Beatrice Sen. Fred Carstens, were supported by real estate spokesmen. There was no opposition.

They included LB275, redefining those who shall require a real estate broker's license; LB276, variously revising law on re-examination and renewal of real estate licenses, and LB277, requiring real estate brokers to hold certain monies in separate accounts.

Rutt Couple Still Serious

Mr. and Mrs. Reinholdt Rutt, of 3700 No. 68th, remained in serious condition at Bryan Memorial Hospital Tuesday following a Sunday car-truck accident.

Rutt, 58, and his wife, Florence, 51, were injured when their car was in collision at 48th and Superior with a garbage truck, driven by Jerry L. Wilbur, 22, of 3162 Kleckner.

Feeling Fit as a Fiddle? Dr. Walter C. Alvarez column "Medical Round-up" appearing in the "Sunday Journal and Star" gives sound advice on how to keep healthy.

MARK TRAIL

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

BY SYLVANUS M. DUVALL PH.D. AND EVELYN M. DUVALL PH.D.

1. Yes. The popular song is right: love and marriage do go together like a horse and carriage. Studies show that love affairs rarely succeed and that the partners [illegible] the contentment possible in marriage. It takes continuing love both for the marriage and for one another to keep love alive. Love is good for marriage and marriage is good for love — the two go together.

2. To work is to live. True—False—

True. Dr. Harry Levinson has a study made a study of work detailed in his book "Emotional Health in the World of the Worker." He concludes: "Folk wisdom says that to work is to live and that those who do not work seem to die literally and psychologically." The psychologist agrees: "Men work when they need money, but they keep right on working when they are well fed, well housed and well taken care of generally. They work to meet a variety of personal and emotional and social needs." These make a fascinating

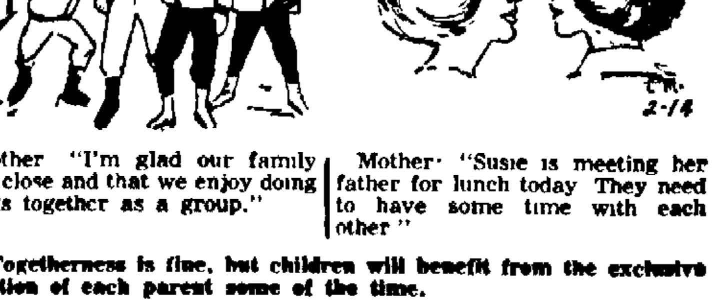
POINTS FOR PARENTS

BY MARY BRYSON



Mother: "I'm glad our family is so close and that we enjoy doing things together as a group."

Mother: "Susie is meeting her father for lunch today. They need to have some time with each other."

Togetherness is fine, but children will benefit from the exclusive attention of each parent some of the time.
